PRICE TWO CENTS

WIFE BEATER IS GIVEN LONG TERM BY COUNTY JUDGE

Clarence Lynch, Charged with Making Attack on His Wife, Gets 90 Days

MUST WORK UNDER THE SHERIFF

And During Three Months All His Wages Will Go to His Wife and Child

WIFE COLLECTED HIS PAY CHECK

Always Paid the Bills, He Says, and Gave Him 10 Cents to Buy Beer on Fourth

Clarence Lynch was sent to the county jail for a term of 90 days this morning for beating his wife. He will work under the direction of the sheriff during that period and the entire amount of his wages will be turned over to his wife.

The sentence was imposed by Judge Baldwin, after hearing the testimony of three witnesses. Lynch is charged with beating his wife when she came down town to ask him to return to his home on the evening of July 3. Miss Frances Goodhue, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., was one of the witnesses. She said Lynch struck his wife. Immediately after Miss Goodhue left the stand Lynch was called.

Wife Collects Money

"I did not strike my wife," he said. "Three months in the county jail, and you are to work under the direction of the sheriff during that time, your entire wages to be turned over to your wife," was the answer of the court.

Lynch says he has turned his wages over to his wife for several months. He says she collects the money and pays the bills.

Ten Cents for Beer

"I gave him 20 cents to pay a man who he owed him and 10 cents to buy two glasses of beer with," the wife said when she got on the stand. "When he did not come home I went down to look for him. I took the baby with me. I found him coming out of a saloon and asked him to go home with me. He refused and I started along."

90 Days for Story It was at this time that the alleged beating was administered. Mrs. Lynch ran across the street and down to the Y. W. C. A. The chief of police was on the scene and later the man was placed under arrest. Lynch claimed that he acted in self defense, and that he was attempting to get his wife to go home. He told this story to Judge Baldwin, and got 90 days for it.

Unusually Long Term Mrs. Lynch did not claim that her husband struck her with anything but his hand. He slapped her, she says, and threatened her.

The term imposed by Judge Baldwin, is said by La Crosse attorneys to be unusually heavy. And while Lynch is serving the term and working he cannot take a drink, or he must serve the remainder of the time in jail. Also he must make the jail his home, and sleep there at night.

POST REWARDS HEROISM

WASHINGTON, July 9.—President Wilson today rewarded heroism when, through an executive order, he made Captain James Lee Cochran of Spencerville, Ohio, a field agent of the department of agriculture. The president set aside the civil service regulations to make the appointment. Captain Cochran was an officer in the Philippine Scouts and was wounded through the body in a fight with Moros. He finally recovered only to find that in his absence he had been dropped from the rolls of the scouts and there was no longer a place for him. Today's executive order resulted.

RICH BANKER BANKRUPT

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—The failure of John E. Franklin, former president of the Bankers' Trust company, was announced here today. His direct liabilities are estimated at $675,000. His assets are all in his creditors' hands. Ninety-five small banks in the southwest hold a million of his collateral. Franklin is at his summer home in Colorado while investigation of his tangled financial affairs is under way.

SCORE HURT IN WRECK

SUPERIOR, Wis., July 9.—Twenty persons were slightly injured and two sustained broken legs shortly before noon today when a Billings Park street car left the track near the Twenty-first street viaduct and slid down a fifteen foot bank.

SMALLPOX RAGES

RACINE, Wis., July 9.—With five houses under quarantine for small pox and six patients at the isolation hospital the board of health is unable to control the situation.

BURDICK IS KIND TESTIFY FRIENDS

Those Who Work with Poor Commissioner Declare He Is Sympathetic as Well as Efficient

GAVE COON $37.75 IN 34 DAYS

Deducting $10 for Rent it Was Nearly Ten Cents a Day for Each Member of Family of Eight

"Sol" Burdick has a heart. D. L. Aiken, a member of the county poor commission, declares that the poor commissioner has a kindly and sympathetic disposition. John Costly and Walter Winter earnestly support this testimony. All three have been intimately familiar with Mr. Burdick's work, for years, and Mr. Aiken recited many instances of his tender regard for poor people, especially children.

The representation on behalf of Mr. Burdick were made as a result of The Tribune's editorial of last evening, in which the poor commissioner was criticised, the case of the Coon family having been used as a text.

Mr. Burdick displayed county orders and grocers' and other receipts to show that the following money had been spent for the Coon family of eight people:

June 3	$ 5.00
June 6	5.00
June 10	5.00
June 15	10.00
June 16	5.00
June 30	1.00
July 2	2.80
July 7	1.95

Total for 34 days, including rent, $37.75

The gross amount shown in these receipts and orders is sufficient to provide almost exactly $1.00 per day for all purposes, which Mr. Burdick asserts is enough for the absolute necessities of a family of eight people living as dependents. That the family was wasteful and did not make anywhere near the most of what was provided is Mr. Burdick's view.

Analysis of the above table shows that, deducting the $10 paid for rent, the family received $27.75 in 34 days for all purposes. The record seems to show that it all went for food. This, then, is an allowance of 78 cents per day to feed the family of eight people, which is a little less than ten cents per day for each person.

Mr. Burdick lives but a few blocks from the Coon cottage. He says they sent the children over when anything was wanted, and that he has frequently called to see if anything was wanted. Never, he says, has he refused them food.

Assertions made by citizens that Mr. Burdick is harsh in his treatment of applicants and those interested for them were strongly denied by friends and associates of the commissioner. No question has been raised as to his industry and business ability, and his work is said to have won him a strong backing in the board of supervisors.

CONTINUE COWEN'S CASE FOR WEEK

Salesman Alleged to Have Misused Mails to Get a Hearing on July 16

Harry Cowen, former salesman for the Star Knitting works, now charged with misuse of the United States mails, will be given a hearing before United States Commissioner Harrison July 15. He was taken before the commissioner yesterday and the case held over.

Commissioner Harrison explained this morning why the case was taken over by the federal officials. "There are several witnesses outside the state," said he, "who will be called at the trial. It would be impossible for the state to secure them, but the government can."

An effort will be made to have Cowen bound over to the federal grand jury.

COUNCIL HAS OPPORTUNITY TO RECOGNIZE SERVICES OF LATE ALDERMAN SCHULZE

Arthur Schulze, son of the late Alderman Robert Schulze, is a candidate for the appointment by the city council as alderman to fill the unexpired term of his father.

The council could make no more fitting selection. Arthur Schulze has stepped into his father's place at the head of the bakery which is an important industry in the Fifth ward. There has never been any criticism or reproach of his character, and his ability is not questioned. He should make a satisfactory alderman.

Robert Schulze gave this city able service as alderman from the Fifth ward, and as president of the council. During the labors attending the important administration of Dr. Anderson when the latter undertook to rescue this city from the desert, Mr. Schulze gave him assistance so reliable that his chief declared the city of La Crosse should reward him with an office of greater scope and emoluments. The city never did, and the city council will be presented with its last opportunity to recognize the painstaking service of Robert Schulze when, next Friday night, it proceeds to the election of his successor.

COMMERCE BOARD SCORES PASS EVIL

Southern Roads Are Scathingly Arraigned for Many Free Tickets Given

REFLECTS LACK OF MORALITY Officials of State and Nation Recipients of Railroad Favours

WASHINGTON, July 9.—In a report to the senate upon the issuance of free passes by the Louisville and Nashville and associated railroads today the Interstate commerce commission scathingly arraigned the company for lavish distribution of passes and their insidious influence.

"These carriers have dipped into practically every domain of public and private life through the instrumentality of the free pass," the report declared. "The lack of morality reflected is a menace to the institutions of a free people."

During 1913 the L. and N. issued 11,805 passes, involving 4,577,000 miles of travel, worth $134,000, according to the report. Of these 6,578 were to members of legislative bodies and other public officials, including one United States senator, two United States representatives and 139 United States officials, also local judges, city, county and state legislative officials.

The report also stated that the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad in 1914 had issued 22,255 passes for 1,133,944 miles of travel, worth $209,400, including 151 to United States officials and over 15,000 to state legislative officials.

THINKS PARTY SAFE

NOME, Alaska, July 9.—Captain Robert Bartlett of the Stefansson Arctic expedition today declared he knew nothing of the reported loss of eight members of his expedition off the coast of Alaska. He said he only knows that a party of four started over the ice to cache provisions saved when the steamer Karluk sank. They took 120 days provisions. Bartlett does not know positively whether these men are safe, but believes they are.

MOTHER-IN-LAW TO BLAME SAYS KING

Young Greek Who Shot His Wife's Mother Tells Story to the Court

CASE CONTINUED ONE MONTH Man Did Not Realize What He Was Doing Because of Continual "Nagging"

The case of Gus Vaseles, better known as Gus King, charged with shooting his mother-in-law, Mrs. F. L. Green, was laid over for 30 days in the county court this morning.

The opinion expressed at the court house is that King had some good reason for aiming the gun at Mrs. Green. He claims that she was trying to break up his home, and that she had attempted to get his wife to leave him.

"Nagging" Blamed He admits that he fired the shot—there is no argument over that—but he claims that he was justified in doing it. Continual "nagging" is given as the real reason.

According to his statement his mother-in-law told him a doctor's bill was $75 and collected the money for it from his weekly wage. Investigation, so he says, proved that the physician's charge was but $20. That, and many other things, caused him to do the shooting.

Man Is Released "I really believe that the man did not realize what he was doing," declared District Attorney Law, to reporters after the hearing. "As soon as his wife spoke to him he dropped the gun and the affair was over." King is at liberty without bonds and will appear in the court August 9 to answer to the charge.

HITS BASEBALL "TRUST"

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 9.—Organized baseball, under the national commission agreement was interpreted as "in restraint of trade and a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law" by Keene H. Addington of Chicago, personal attorney for Hal Chase in supreme court today. Addington asked Justice Bissell to dissolve the temporary injunction granted the Chicago White Sox of the American league on June 25, preventing Chase from playing with the Buffalo club of the Federal league.

FRED BUSSE DIES

CHICAGO, July 9.—Fred A. Busse, former mayor of Chicago, died unexpectedly at his home, 4852 Sheridan road today. He had been ill for some time at Mercy hospital but signs of improvement encouraged the physicians to order his removal home.

Busse lost $123,000 by the failure of the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank. It is believed this shock hastened his end.

ASKS FOR PARDON

RACINE, Wis., July 9.—Arthur M. Haas, a traveling salesman, who on July 10, 1913, was sent to state prison for two years, for snatching a money bag with $290.50 from the Chicago and Northwestern station, has applied for a pardon through the state board of control.

WILSON WILL STOP TRADE LEGISLATION

Announced on Authority He Will Meet "Big Business" More Than Half Way

CONSIDERS HE HAS DONE ENOUGH

No Elaborate Legislative Program in Prospect for Future Congresses

WASHINGTON, July 9.—With the third of the conferences between President Wilson and representatives of "big business" scheduled for today it can be stated on authority that the president has agreed to meet the big business concerns of the country more than half way in their effort at co-operation.

The president has decided that in the two years of his administration he has put through a constructive program that requires time to work out. Consequently there will be no future elaborate congresses. Through conferences with business men President Wilson has been getting facts regarding the actual conditions throughout the country and inside views of business on his anti-trust program. "Big business," he feels, has accepted the trust program, and is no longer placing obstacles in its way. As a result the president is considering certain changes in the pending bills. These amendments will not change the bills fundamentally, but will work less hardship on corporations in their enforcement.

Today's visitors to the white house included: Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer of Detroit; R. S. Campston, Chicago; William George, Aurora; Andrew Russell, Jacksonville, representatives of the Illinois State bankers' association and the national association of bank supervisors. Representatives of financiers who have been aiding in solving the problem as presented by the new currency law.

Henry Ford and the president were together for more than an hour. On leaving the White house Ford said:

"All I care to say is that I went over existing business conditions with the president. I told him there was no cause for alarm. Business is improving all the time, the so-called depression has no real foundation in fact."

At the White house it was stated that the president had "greatly enjoyed" his conference with Ford and that he had been "pleased" they both agreed that there is no real business depression.

ST. LOUIS, July 9.—Because air currents probably will carry them northeast, nine aeronauts who will sail Saturday from here in the national championship balloon races have asked steamship lines on the great lakes to keep a watch for the balloons.

HAVE SUSPECT IN AX MURDER CASE

Escaped Inmate of Insane Asylum Held for Four Deaths at Blue Island

CHICAGO, July 9.—After his seizure as a suspect in the Blue Island ax murders, Peter Buchanow, who escaped from the insane asylum at Kankakee July 3, was today transferred to the new city police station to be "sweated." He speaks but little English and will be given the police third degree through an interpreter. Clothes found in Buchanow's room are stained with what is supposed to be blood. He admits having escaped and walking to Chicago along the railroad tracks that run through Blue Island, where Jacob Mislich, his wife, their daughter, Mrs. William Mansfield, and her two year old child were murdered Sunday night.

DENOUNCES T. R.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 9.—Colonel Roosevelt was denounced as "one of the muck rakers of the constitution" in a speech delivered by Rome G. Brown of Minneapolis, before the Indiana State Bar association today.

CATTLE SHORTAGE LARGE

OMAHA, Neb., July 9.—A shortage of 367,951 cattle during the six months of the year ending July 1, 1914, was reported from South Omaha and the other five big cattle markets of the country in statements given out here today.

RAISING MONEY TO GIVE ELIJAH C. COON CHRISTIAN BURIAL BESIDE HIS BABES

F. J. Wilson, J. G. Dubraks and Ed J. Conway are raising a fund to give the late Elijah C. Coon a Christian burial.

In more prosperous days Mr. Coon acquired a lot in Oak Grove cemetery, and two of his children are buried there. As a result of the work done by the three young men, he will be buried beside his children, instead of by the county as a pauper.

Last night, as late as it was possible to find people in their homes or accost them in the streets, the trio of "good fellows" were "on the job." They took nickles and dimes, as well as dollars. They are still soliciting, with the hope that after the funeral there will be enough left to pay rent and meet the immediate needs of the mother and six small children who survive.

If YOU want to help, give your nickle or dime or quarter or dollar to the first of these young men you meet, or leave it for them at The Tribune office.

HUERTA PRISONER HELD BY FEAR OF HIS OWN FORCES

Dare Not Leave Mexico City Says Official for the Troops Will Turn

SAYS HUERTA HAD MADERO KILLED

President and His Vice President Were Stood Up Against Wall and Shot

CARNIVAL OF LOOT IN CAPITAL

Officials of Huerta Are "Cleaning Up" Thousands a Day; Blow-up Is Near

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

VERA CRUZ, July 9.—Huerta's plight in Mexico City is desperate. Only two of his faithful generals are holding back the entire army from revolt, and day by day terror grows with the fear that the dictator is growing insane with his renewed drinking.

This was the picture of the Mexican capital brought here today by Alfredo Noriega, General Blanquet's most intimate friend, and through him close to the inner circle of those who now rule Mexico City. He has turned against Huerta.

Dare Not Leave "Only Generals Blanquet and Maure are holding the entire army back from revolting against Huerta," he told me. "Huerta would leave the capital if he could, but he doesn't dare to, for fear the army would learn of it, turn against him, and rend him to pieces."

"Huerta's plight is desperate. He does not even dare send his wife from the city, as it would be a signal for his downfall. He discharges every member of the government who tries to send his own family away. Terror exists among the leading Mexicans of the capital. Many believe Huerta is now insane."

"How was Madero killed?" I asked Noriega.

Shot Against Wall "Madero and Vice President Suarez were taken out behind the penitentiary by Colonel Francisco Cardenas, stood up against a wall and shot," was the reply. "Cardenas then shot up an automobile and told the story about the attempted rescue of the two men. I never was a friend of Madero, but that is the truth about how he died."

"I think it was Huerta personally who gave the death order," continued Noriega. "And at least Huerta was responsible for the order, because Cardenas got it from Mondragon."

"The United States is right when it blames Huerta for the killing of Madero."

"There is a carnival of loot in the capitol now. Jorge Huerta, the president's son, has made two million dollars gold in the past year. He is a terrible man, who has killed scores to satisfy personal grudges."

"Mohen (former cabinet minister) has made five hundred thousand dollars."

Make $10,000 a Day "The other day just before he retired—before the rebels, General Joaquin Maas, entered a bank in Coahuila and rifled the vaults of $200,000 in gold. Huerta is fabulously rich. Urrutia was making $10,000 a day, but he killed so many men secretly and laid the blame on Blanquet that Blanquet demanded his retirement."

"Huerta is acting like an insane man. He ought to let the last member of his family leave the capital, but he refuses."

"He says: 'The Americans won't let me be killed. They can't recognize Carranza if he kills me, because they wouldn't recognize me after Madero was killed.'"

Warns of Blow-up "Look out for the blow-up in the capital," concluded Noriega. "Blanquet got me out of the country by obtaining for me the appointment of second secretary of the Mexican embassy in Madrid. He saw what was coming. Hundreds of others are trying to find excuses for leaving."

"My prophecy is that when Villa nears the capital, the army in the city will revolt and slay Huerta. Then will come a reign of unspeakable terror."

"I give Huerta two weeks."

NEGRO TRIED FOR MURDER

CHICAGO, July 9.—Isaac Bond, Gary, Ind., negro, accused of the ravishment and murder on October 5, 1913, of Miss Ida Leegson, art student and sculptress, was today placed on trial. Clarence Darrow, labor attorney, was the negro's counsel.

Daddy's Bedtime

The Ants
Story — Build a Summer Hotel.

EVELYN had always said that she thought ants were splendid little creatures because they were so busy and seemed to enjoy working over their homes and carrying food to their children.

So daddy told her that he had a story to tell her about a summer hotel that the ants had just finished building.

"The idea started with young Mrs. Black Ant, who was quite a giddy young creature. But despite that fact she was very capable and was one of the best little housekeepers known to the ant world.

"She told the other ants that in order to make their colony popular they ought to have a big summer hotel where all the fashionable ants could come for the summer months, wear their best clothes and listen to the concerts given by the crickets every evening near by.

"Now, the ants thought that this was an excellent scheme of hers.

"And she added that of course they must charge enormous prices, because she said that folks who wanted to be fashionable were always willing to pay big prices for—well, just to be fashionable.

"Now, all the ants listened to young Mrs. Black Ant with the greatest of interest, and they wasted no time about setting to work. They built their hotel on the top of a fine mound with a beautiful view of the surrounding country, for another thing that young Mrs. Black Ant had told them was that they must brag about their magnificent view. The hotel was built in less than a day. It certainly was large. In fact, the ants were almost afraid it was too large and that they would never be able to get enough 'guests' to come to it.

"They all went around to nearby ant cities telling the ants about the wonderful hotel they had just built with all the modern improvements—sun heat, star light, fresh air breezes, delicious food brought by the ant managers, who were very fussy that it would always be of the best. And last and perhaps the most important of all would be the concerts of the crickets, which they could listen to every evening when they could dress up in their best clothes. Besides going around themselves, they sent notices on little sticks, which they mailed in the ant postoffice to the faraway ant cities."

"I didn't know ants had a postoffice," said Evelyn.

"They certainly have," replied daddy. "Their postmen are any of the ants who happen to be going near the cities where the letters are addressed.

"Well, the hotel was a wonderful success. They opened with a bang, and the ants who came to stay for the season said:

"This is something this place has always needed."

the drawing room, she discovered that her brown leather bag had been stolen. She had remembered, as she awakened, that she had not thought to take it upstairs with her when she had retired the night before, and now—it was gone. Some one had taken it from the center table upon which she had placed it after coming in from a shopping trip.

The girl did not regret the loss of some $10 or more, nor stealing of her bunch of keys, but she did mind and she wept over the theft of her note book. In it were all the plots and suggestions for stories that she had collected since beginning her literary career.

The room in which she had left her bag was a front one and opened on to a small balcony that ran along the entire row of boarding houses. Either a thief had entered by that means during the night or—? Robina rebelled at the suspicion that one of the three men who had been calling on her the evening before had taken it.

It was quite true that she knew nothing whatever of the character of any of the three visitors. Robina had been introduced to them while at the boarding house next door, and they had stepped over the low balcony railing and into her own drawing room. She had enjoyed laughing with them and regretted the enforced suspicion under which she must hold them.

However, her note book was gone, and there seemed little use crying over it. She must try to remember all the plots she had written down, though she realized that it would be difficult. A few weeks ago she had been inspired by a suggestion for a series of stories and they of course, were put down for future reference. In vain did Robina search her tired mind for the peculiarly interesting thoughts that had come to her brain but they seemed not to be registered there as they had been jotted down hurriedly in her note book.

"I only hope," mused Robina, "that a literary person does not get a look at my notes or my perfectly good ideas will be stolen."

It was the very thing, however, that apparently did happen.

After a much-needed rest to her overworked brain Robina returned from a short trip into the Maine woods. It was, perhaps, eight months since the theft of the bag and never a trace of it had she found. She had left the apartment in which she had been robbed and had not retained the friendship of any of the three men who had been in her drawing room on the night the bag had mysteriously disappeared.

She was looking interestingly through a current magazine for familiar names and those who were springing into fame. A page of advertisements in the center of the magazine claimed her attention, for a new writer was being exploited on that page.

As Robina read the lines it seemed as if her heart would stop beating so great was the sudden feeling that the series of stories advertised were hers.

"Surely no two persons could think of so unique a character," she argued to herself. "It came to me in a moment of inspiration, and the person who stole my pocketbook and this person"—she glanced at the heralded name—"are one and the same. Gerald Thorne! Evidently he knows how to wield the pen or this magazine wouldn't advertise him so largely. Anyone could with an idea such as my 'Tiny' to work on."

Robina came to a sudden decision. She would not let Gerald Thorne steal her ideas, write them and get a big check for them without hearing

HE WINS SEAT IN CONGRESS BY PLUCK

Michael J. Gill.

Michael J. Gill of St. Louis, who was made a member of the house a few days ago when L. C. Dyer was unseated, won his place by indomitable pluck. When the contested election was held a little more than a year ago Mr. Gill had money in the bank and owned a fine home. Just before Mr. Dyer was unseated Mr. Gill had no money in the bank, had a big mortgage on his home and was working as a laborer in the glass works near Washington for two dollars a day to help carry on the fight, from her. She went out while her anger was hottest and called up the editor of the "Era Magazine."

Upon being given the address of Gerald Thorne, Robina sat down to her typewriter and wrote a letter that made Gerald Thorne sit up and rub his eyes with amazement. The result was that his habitual lazy toilet was hastened and so upset was his inner man that he left the house in search of Robina Vale without his second cup of black coffee.

Robina was rushing off a romance of the Maine woods on her typewriter when an imperious summons on the telephone disturbed her train of thought. Upon answering, she learned that Gerald Thorne was in the hall below and would like to see her.

"Send him up!" she said to the half boy, and turned from the telephone for a hasty glance into the mirror above the mantel. "One must look nice—even for literary robbers," she reflected, and smiled at the unusually brilliant beauty her mirror cast back at her.

Robina was not as calm as she appeared when she led Thorne through her small hall into the tiny sitting room. Had he been less gentle and more aggressive in his manner she would have been better able to accuse him of stealing her stories. Instead, much to her discomfort, she felt a wild desire to humble herself before him immediately.

His eyes were looking steadily into her own, and Robina thought she detected a dreadful hurt somewhere in their depths.

"I do not believe you took my stories," she said quickly, and her lips smiled involuntarily and the rush of light that swept away the hurt in Thorne's eyes.

"Thank you," he said and sat back as if contented, with the world. "I have already telephoned to the 'Era' to take my name from the stories and to put your own—"

"I will not have it!" cried Robina, while two bright red spots sprang into her cheeks. She went to the telephone, and before Thorne realized her intention she called for the "Era Magazine." He sat still while Robina told the amused editor that the "Tiny" stories were a collaboration by Gerald Thorne and herself. After that she returned to the chair opposite her guest and found herself reflecting that Gerald Thorne fitted wonderfully into her surroundings.

"Now then," he began quickly, "I must tell you how it all happened; but first I thank you for being so generous as to let my name remain on the stories."

"You wrote them," smiled Robina, "and that to me—is by far the heaviest end of the stick."

"Again I thank you," laughed Thorne, and while Robina lighted a match to her percolator he told her the story. "About six or seven months ago I was beginning to reach the bottom of the well of despond. My stories were not selling and my brain seemed void of plots. I was living in a boardinghouse at the time

How to Beautify a Summer Soiled Face

It's really a simple matter to renovate a face soiled by sun, winds or dirt. Ordinary mercurized wax, used like cold cream, will transform the worst old complexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer veil of surface skin, but so gently, gradually, there's no discomfort. The worn-out skin comes off in patches, but evenly, in tiny particles, leaving no evidence of the treatment. The younger, healthier under-skin forms, the new complexion, is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of Revivax wax to be had at any drug store, is enough to remove any tanned, reddened, pimply, freckled or blotchy skin. Apply before retiring, washing it off mornings.

Many skins wrinkle easily with every wind that blows, with heat, worry, etc. tightens the skin and strengthens relaxed muscles, is a wash lotion made as follows: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, 1/2 pt. This gives immediate results.

and told my troubles to a fellow lodger with whom I had talked. He had a gift of story telling and often amused me with tales that I only half believed. The fellow then and there outlined a series of stories that he said he had conceived while soaring in the realms of a champagne dream. I did not for the moment doubt the origin of the character of Tiny because, as I say, the chap was good at yarns. I have his address and have promised him half of the check, which will be $300. I am getting $100 each for them."

"Tell me the man's name?" demanded Robina quickly. "I think I can complete the story."

"His name is Harry Blakely," said Thorne, and watched Robina's lips repeat the name.

"I knew it," she exclaimed. "He is the man who stole my pocketbook while he was calling on me. I never did like his face and now I know why."

She smiled with wonderful sweetness. "I feel very guilty about thinking even for a second that you might have taken my pocketbook and used my ideas, and also I feel that you rushed through your breakfast this morning after that dreadful letter I wrote you."

She turned from the steady regard with which Thorne was favoring her and placed a cup under the spout of the percolator. "So—I am going to insist on giving you a cup of coffee while I piece together the rest of the story for you. You are no doubt curious."

"For the moment," said Thorne, with his slow smile, "I'm peculiarly contented and curious only as to the outcome of this oddly charming episode in our lives."

"Perhaps we will collaborate on a romance—" Robina stopped suddenly overcome by embarrassment.

"Never mind," laughed Thorne softly. "I seem also to see the threads of romance trailing toward the looms of fate."

He looked into Robina's eyes as she handed him a fragrant cup of coffee.

STATE REGULATION UPHOLD BY WRITER

MADISON, Wis., July 9.—The indictments against state regulation of public utilities made by the Minnesota Home Rule league, are not adequately supported, according to Clyde Lyndon King of New York, in article in the National Municipal Review, just issued. The article is devoted entirely to the methods used by the Wisconsin utility commission in deciding public utility cases. One of the chief objections made by the league was that several of the cases decided by the Wisconsin commission have been taken into the courts.

GINGER INTOXICATING

TOPEKA, Kas., July 9.—Jamaica ginger is intoxicating. So ruled the Kansas supreme court today when it placed a ban on its sale in this state. Junction City druggists did a thriving business in Jamaica ginger after the lid was clamped on until injunctions were issued restraining its sale.

NEARLY THOUSAND CASES SETTLED

Workmen's Compensation Act Is Great Success, Is the Declaration of Crownhart

MONEY SAVED FOR THE TAXPAYERS

Court Costs Greater Before than Amount Workers Actually Received for Injuries

MADISON, Wis., July 9.—During June 966 cases under the workmen's compensation were adjusted and paid in full, according to the monthly report of the Industrial commission. Speaking of the results of the last month of the fiscal year, Chairman C. H. Crownhart said:

What Law Means

"The compensation record for June tells of the great success of the law. During the month 966 cases of compensation were adjusted and paid in full. The indemnity in these cases amounted to $71,756.91 or an average of $74.28 per case. In addition to indemnity, approximately $35,878 was paid for medical and hospital bills to cure and relieve injured workmen. Total compensation for June, therefore, amounted in all to $107,634.91 or at the rate of nearly $1,300,000 per annum. June payments were the largest of any month since the law was enacted.

"Compared with the old system of litigation, it will be noted that for this one month the workmen got two-thirds as much relief as for any one-year period prior to the act. Figuring the cost of administration to the tax-payer, it shows a great saving. The expense of administering the compensation act for the month of June was only $1,154.90.

Saving to Tax Payer

"The experience under the old liability law showed that the court costs of litigation were greater than the amount which actually got to the injured men after all expenses were deducted. In making this estimate, of course, the expenses in cases where there was no recovery are included. These expenses had to be paid locally through taxation. The present system, considering the amounts paid to injured workmen and their dependents, is immensely cheaper to the tax payer than the old system."

STUDY EUROPEAN CITIES

NEW YORK, July 9.—A "city studying" commission under the auspices of the Southern Commercial Congress, which has headquarters at Washington, sailed from here today for London. Composed of mayors of several cities, representatives appointed by governors of several states and of various civic and commercial organizations, the commission will study urban problems in England, Austria, Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium and Holland during the summer. The commission will attend the International Congress of Municipal Executives and Civic Leaders at London July 20. Later it will participate in the International Urban Exposition at Lyons and will report to the Southern Commercial Congress at Muskogee, Okla., next November.

PITTSBURGH WITHOUT MAYOR

PITTSBURGH, July 9.—Mayor Joseph G. Armstrong sailed for London today to attend the International Convention of Mayors and until his return there will be no head to the city government. It was planned to have an acting mayor but it was found that no law has been passed in this state for the naming of an "acting mayor" and such a procedure would consequently be illegal.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your Kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. Agent Chas. A. Benschlag, Druggist, 508 Main St.

MANUFACTURING CRIMINALS

Sing Sing, the most famous prison in America, is the place where the state of New York put its law breakers, presumably for just punishment and possible reformation.

The retiring warden of Sing Sing has just been unburdening himself of some facts about this prison and about the state that is responsible for it.

As for just punishment, he declares he could pick at random twenty first-time convicts and twenty third-time men, and the total sentences of the latter—hardened criminals—would be less than of the former.

As for reform possibilities, he explains that the prison is so hopelessly overcrowded and so badly in need of extensions and repairs that living and sanitary conditions are revolting. The place is a breeding place of disease, immorality and crime. The cause, he says, is "complete disregard and neglect by the legislature." Time after time he has called the attention of the lawmakers to the situation, but they have never been interested.

The lesson of Hugo's Jean Valjean, it seems, has not yet been learned by enlightened communities. Offenders are still driven to worse offenses by punishments that do not fit their crimes, and by environment absolutely unsuited to reformatory effect. Without being sentimental over criminals, one may say that in such a case as this the state itself is just as criminal as many of the men cooped up in its penitentiary.

"THOU TOO SAIL ON OH SHIP OF STATE"

Nothing could have been more natural than the selection of John C. Burns as president of the State Bank of La Crosse. The late John M. Holley, Sr., and Mr. Burns were close friends and entertained a mutual admiration. As a director of the bank Mr. Burns had come into close touch with its affairs, and public instinct quickly associated his name with the vacant presidency. His ideas of banking were acquired from his association with Mr. Holley, and therefore the institution passes into his leadership with no perceptible sense of change.

John C. Burns has long been a powerful figure in La Crosse, and always his strong influence has been exerted on the side of justice and progress. No man more fully typifies the spirit of this municipality, none better portrays its best ideals in his daily life.

With John M. Holley, the son of his father, leading the active business of the bank, with a splendid corps of young men at his command, it may be predicted with confidence that this excellent institution will fulfill its destiny of honorable usefulness to the enterprising public which it serves.

THE PRICE OF TYRANNY

Tyranny always breeds assassins. It has been so since government without the consent of the governed first arose, and the recent Austrian tragedy is nothing to wonder at.

The Archduke Francis Ferdinand, crown prince of Austria-Hungary, murdered with his wife in the Bosnian capital, was not himself a tyrant, though possibly he had the making of one. Tyrant is perhaps too harsh a word for the aged Francis Joseph, called back to affairs of state when he wanted to lay them down and take a little rest before death came. But the government this reigning family represents is a tyrant, and the representative who was about to assume the supreme power paid the penalty.

Six years ago Austria seized and annexed the independent states of Bosnia and Herzegovina, over which it had exercised a suzerainty with the consent of other powers. Its action was absolutely without right, and was taken against the protests of Great Britain. The annexed states did not want to be ruled by Austria; racial and traditional antipathies have made them chafe under alien laws and patriotism has kept alive a spirit of revolt. Being too weak to fight, they resorted to the usual methods of a small people when oppressed. Such assassination is never defensible, but it is explicable.

PROBE SLOUFEDES

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 9.—President Gilmore of the Federal League arrived here today to confer with the local "magnates" in an attempt to learn what is the matter with the league. Gilmore declares the Mound City is the only city on the circuit in need of aid. Investigation into the delay in the Marans case was urged by "Fighting Jim."

MEETING A BOOMERANG

TOPEKA, Kan., July 9.—At the conference of lawyers held yesterday those who were disposed to criticize the courts in general and the Kansas supreme court in particular were in a decided minority. The conference adjourned with the adoption of resolutions severely arraigning those who called the meeting and commending the court.

Watermelon
O luscious fruit, to thee I sing,
Thou art indeed a glorious thing.
I love to carve thy form apart
And delve into thy wondrous heart.
I love indeed to slobber around,
Enjoying thee with seawave sound,
To be polite it ain't no use,
I wallow in thy sweetened juice.
Without the slightest pang or fears,
I get thee in my eyes and ears
And on my shirt front, on my tie
And then the furniture that's nigh,
And then I note with heartfelt glee
That thou hast washed my face for me.

Wasn't to be Tricked

They were speaking of the unsophisticated the other evening when Frank Funk of Illinois, who is identified with the progressive movement of a resident of the rural zone who refused to be tricked.

The rural one emerged from the woods one day and was walking along the road when he saw an automobile for the first time. The thing didn't look natural to him, and he started down the middle of the pike at a speed that made the automobile burn gasoline to keep him in sight.

"Hey, there," shouted the chauffeur, who wished to pass, as he loudly honked his horn, "get out of that road!"

"Won't do nothin' o' the kind!" defiantly called back the native, slightly increasing his pace.

"What's that?" indignantly cried the chauffeur, still working the horn. "Do you mean to tell me you won't get out of the road?"

"That's jes' what I said!" cried the speeding native. "Ye want ter git me over in that plowed ground where ye kin ketch me!"—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Might Have Said More

Reminiscences in the lobby of a Washington hotel the other night drifted to hoboes, when Congressman Charles H. Burke of South Dakota was reminded of an incident that happened in a suburban village.

One afternoon a small sized youngster was playing in front of a quiet looking residence when a hobo came along. Seeing that the child was alone, and taking it for granted that nobody was around, the tramp waded right in.

"Look here, kid," he roughly remarked, "I want all the money there

St. Clair, Pa.—"My mother was alarmed because I was troubled with suppression and had pains in my back and side, and severe headaches. I had pimples on my face, my complexion was bad, my sleep was disturbed, I had nervous spells, was very tired and had no ambition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has worked like a charm in my case and has regulated me. I worked in a mill among hundreds of girls and have recommended your medicine to many of them."

—Miss ESTELLA MAGUIRE, 110 Thwing St., St. Clair, Pa.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. Therefore, such letters from girls who have suffered and were restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be a lesson to others. The same remedy is within reach of all.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Gladys' mother was entertaining visitors when suddenly the door was flung open and in burst Gladys like the proverbial whirlwind.

"My dear child," said the mother, rebukingly, "I never heard such a noise as you made coming downstairs. Now go right back and come downstairs properly."

Gladys retired and a few moments later re-entered the room.

"Did you hear me come down that time, mamma?" she asked.

"No, dear," replied the mother. "Now why can't you always behave like a lady then?"

"Yes, mamma," said Gladys dutifully. "I slid down the banisters."

"All the money that we have," was the quick response of the youngster, "is in an old vest in the kitchen."

Instantly the hobo disappeared in the house, and just as instantly he came back. In transit he lost his hat, half of his shirt and some of his vest and by the time he hit the ground there was hardly enough left of him for the ambulance to cart away.

The Great New Historical Romance

John O' Jamestown
By VAUGHN KESTER
Copyright, The Bobbs-Merrill Company

At the head of this wild train was slight girlish figure garbed in a robe of doe skin edged with the soft down from the breasts of wood pigeons. Though I had never seen her until that moment I knew at a glance that this could be none other than the Emperor's daughter, and indeed, to show her rank, she wore in her hair a white heron's wing, whilst about her wrist were fastened bracelets of red coral which had come from the far south; for the rest of her dress and adornment was very simple, leggings of soft tanned deer-skin, and moccasins of the same material decorated with colored quills; in her hand she carried her bow of hickory wood and at her back was slung her quiver full of arrows.

"It's my dear little maid, Pocahontas!" cried John Smith, and he bade us throw open the gate.

God could not have moved the child to come to our rescue at a more timely season, and I daresay there is hardly an old settler or ancient soldier who has lived to this day but can recall the likeness of that little wild thing of the woods with her dark, eager face under its nodding white plume as she entered our fort at the head of her band.

Yet she was mighty timid of the bearded men in clanking back and breast plates, with swords girt at their sides or muskets in their hands, who now crowded about her, doffing their caps; for as Englishmen we knew how to show our proper respect to a king's daughter, even though that king was naught but a poor painted heathen. But the troubled look that lurked in her black eyes cleared away instantly when John Smith stood before her. I warrant me had she never seen that handsome soldier the child would not have come through the frost-bound woods, all the way from the banks of the River York, with her store of corn and meat.

But whatever the feeling that inspired her to this charity, we men of James Town were not slow to do her homage or properly reward her people, who were given trinkets and made to refresh themselves from the provisions they had brought, for it is certain that they had come empty handed, they must needs have hungered at the fort. Meanwhile the dear Pocahontas, as we came afterwards to call her, was shown our huts and church, and the pinance riding at anchor, at which she exclaimed, since it was so many times larger than the largest canoe. Then she was taken to one of the platforms, where the culverin was loaded with stones and discharged into the top of a great oak tree that stood by the shore; the stones wrought a pretty havoc among the branches. This and the report of the piece filled her attendants with a very manifest fear, so that they one and all fell flat on their faces; but that small roly poly maid stood rigid at John Smith's side as the long echoes rolled across the ice-bound river, and one might see that her pride was beyond her fear, in which she was truly a king's daughter.

By the middle of the afternoon she would go back to the banks of the York with her basket of berries, and to show our respect and love for her we lined up under arms in two files beside the gate; and she very proudly, and close followed by her retinue, passed forth into the open betwixt the armed men. The last I saw of her small pagan ladyship was the nodding white of her heron's plume amongst the brown of the forest growth.

That was the first of her many visits to James Town, for knowing our need she came from York at intervals of every four or five days with supplies of corn and meat. As John Smith has truly writ, she was next under God the instrument to preserve the colony from death, famine, and utter confusion. I oftentimes think of her goodness to starving men, and how she was in after years led to a worthy knowledge of the true God, so far forsaking all the heathen ways of her people as to marry John Rolfe, a very honest gentleman of good estate, who loved and cherished her as she merited; for which imprudence I have heard it said that King James seemed minded to deal in some drastic fashion, with Master Rolfe, since his majesty was affronted that a simple gentleman should presume to wed one of royal rank. I say when I stop to think of these matters, I

REPEATS CHARGE T. R. IS FAKER

PARIS, July 9. — Returning today from Rome, A. Henry Savage-Landor again branded Colonel Roosevelt as a "faker" for his report of discovery of the "River of Doubt" in unknown Brazil.

"Roosevelt's London address," he said, "doesn't change the situation. Members of the Geographical society before whom he spoke consider him a fake as an explorer. First he claimed discovery of a river—and then admitted having crossed that river on a bridge spanned by telegraph wires. Next he went on to say that whoever doubted him might go and be received by friends at the spot where he discovered the river."

"Rome has the right name for Roosevelt—Pallanaro—meaning literally 'one who inflates toy balloons with gas.'"

NORTH SIDELEAGUE APPROVES NORTH SIDE WORK

Plan Big Fireworks Display in Copeland Park for Next Fourth of July

Members of the North Side Progressive league, in a meeting last night in Woodman hall, exhibited much satisfaction in the work recently done and that now being done on the north side, especially the improvement of the causeway and the start of the work on the Rose street viaduct, as well as several jobs of street and sidewalk improvement.

In anticipation of a repetition of the big Fourth of July celebration here last week, the league last night discussed plans for a celebration on the north side for next year. Definite plans will probably be formulated in the near future. Residents of the north side still remember the fireworks display in Copeland park two years ago, and the league is desirous of repeating the event.

PETRAS JURY IS UNABLE TO AGREE

Deadlocked When Court Resumes Today; Reported Eleven to One for Acquittal

GENEVA, Ill., July 9.—The jury in the case of Tony Petras, charged with the murder of Theresa Hollander, was deadlocked today. The court room was crowded when the judge took his place at 9:30 o'clock. Bailiff Andrews paid a visit to the jury room and returned with the statement that no agreement had been reached. The court remained in session, awaiting the verdict. The jury retired yesterday afternoon.

The accepted belief is that the jury stands eleven to one for acquittal. The juror holding out is thought to be the man referred to by counsel for the defense when they objected to the panel on the ground that one man said about Petras "I'd like to cut that cur to bits."

Petras and his faithful wife, worn by their long vigil, were in the court room, openly disappointed at the failure of the jury to agree. Mr. and Mrs. Hollander, aged parents of the murdered girl, were also in court.

INCREASE FORCE OF MEN NOW AT WORK ON THE NEW VIADUCT AT ROSE STREET

After a week and a half of work, the Rose street viaduct is a scene of great activity. A number of men have been taken on during the last week, raising the force to more than forty.

Two giant concrete mixers have been placed ready to start as soon as the pits for the huge piers are dug. Two holes are already well along, and it is thought that the mixers will be put to work inside of a week and a half.

The scene is a favorite "hang out" for the younger generation of the north side.

BEEF PRICES TO SOAR SAY PACKERS

Forecast $10 and Even $12 Meat for Next Winter; Blame the Fall Drought

BOYCOTT PLAN TO LOWER COST

President of Housewives' League Will Urge Use of Argentine Beef

CHICAGO, July 9.—Cattle prices are advancing rapidly at Chicago and all other western primary shipping points and Chicago dealers were today forecasting $10 and even $12 beef for next winter. At Kansas City yesterday cattle on the hoof reached the highest point in a year. The receipts have fallen off at Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and Omaha to a degree unprecedented for this season.

Packers and shippers blame the drought last fall. They say that the consumer, as usual, will pay the increase.

May Boycott American Meat

NEW YORK, July 9.—If beef prices continue to rise abnormally we will start an American meat boycott. We will preach to the American housewife the use of more Argentine beef, more fish, more vegetables and more eggs.

With this threat, Mrs. Julian Heath, national president of the Housewives' League, today answered the Chicago report that beef is soaring upward in the face of bumper crops.

"There is no reason, it seems to me, why meat should be going up, when crops are so unusually large," she declared. "But if it does, we will see that Argentine beef is used. It sells for 14 and 15 cents a pound. I use it and find it satisfactory."

Mrs. Heath said the "meat barons" would lower their figures, should her league institute the Argentine beef campaign.

CLOTHES FOR THOSE WHO ENJOY THE OUT-OF-DOOR WORLD

In order to enjoy whatever sport she favors most, the out-of-door woman must be dressed appropriately from head to toe. There can be no abnormally tight skirts or hats that refuse to stay "put." For the last season or two perhaps we have come to realize this more than ever before and designers have given more attention to sport clothes with the result that one is not obliged to go to extremes of dowdiness in order to be comfortable but may have coats, shirts, skirts and hats that are as modish and becoming as any other costume and at the same time—comfortable.

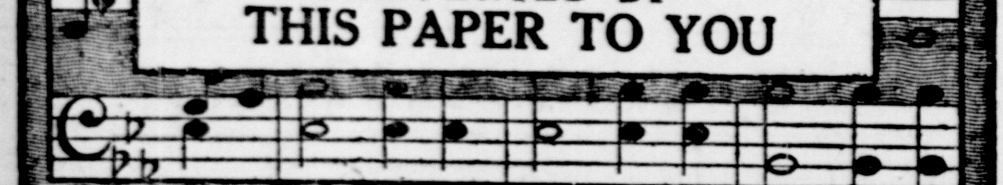

The long, loose coat of tweed shown in 8320 is an excellent model to slip on over the riding habit, tennis or golf costume. It may be made up in a cravenette or a plain material quite as effectively as in tweed. The coat has a raglan shoulder, mannish collar and revers and large patch pockets.

To copy this model in size 36, 4 1/2 yards of 36-inch material is needed. Black and white checked novelty cotton is used for the suit, 7872-8327; the coat is a straight box model and the skirt a three-piece design with just a bit of fullness at the top laid in soft plaits about the waist.

Whereas this is an excellent sport suit, made up in a dark serge or gabardine it would be quite as effective for the street or for business wear.

This suit may be made up in size 36, with 2 1/2 yards of 42-inch material for the coat (7872) and 2 1/2 yards of the same width for the skirt (8327).

Number 8320 comes in sizes 34 to 44. Number 7872 comes in sizes 34 to 42. Number 8327 comes in sizes 22 to 30.

ALTON STEEL FIRM IN RECEIVERSHIP

ALTON, Ill., July 9.—The Alton Steel company, a million dollar concern, which has been operating here about a year, is today in the hands of James Duncan, as receiver. Inability to get fair prices for its hoop steel and cotton ties was announced as the cause. Alton banks asked the receivership. Bank officials declare they will lose nothing by the proceedings.

To Free Your Skin of Hair or Fuzz

(Boudoir Secrets.)
No toilet table is complete without a small package of delatone, for with it hair or fuzz can be quickly banished from the skin. To remove hairs you merely mix into a paste enough of the powder and water to cover the objectionable hairs. This should be left on the skin about 2 minutes, then rubbed off and the skin washed, when it will be found free from hair or blemish. Be sure you get genuine delatone.

SOCIETY

THE COUNTRY CLUB

The Country Club is daily growing in popularity, as the number of guests who attend testify. Ladies' day is looked forward to with great interest and members who have friends visiting take this opportunity to entertain them. The club is a splendid place to spend an afternoon, the scenery being unsurpassed. The cuisine, under the supervision of Mrs. Oeschger, is excellent and abundant.

Over ninety lunched there yesterday, besides those who entertained private parties. A number gave six o'clock dinners. Among the latter were Dr. and Mrs. Cody, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Van Auker, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Tiffany and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Felber. The usual Wednesday night dance was held after the dinner.

Among the strangers who were present were Miss Schwerin, of New York; Miss Reudebusch, of Mayville; Mrs. S. W. McCauley, of Chicago; Miss Brenk, of Milwaukee; Mrs. C. D. Hill and daughter, Mrs. Taylor, of Chicago; Mrs. Ossian Williams of New Orleans; Mrs. P. A. Kolb of Wauwatosa, Wis.; Mrs. McKenzie, Misses Josephine and Cecelia Whalen of Lake City; Miss Rimmey of Baltimore, Md.; Miss Mary Evans, Christmas Lake; Mrs. F. J. McGuire and daughter, Madison; Mrs. Calvin Taylor, Minneapolis; Mrs. Grace Burroughs McLachlin, of St. Louis; Mrs. E. L. Burroughs of Sand Point, Idaho, and Miss Bowen of Chicago.

Several luncheons and dinners are planned for tomorrow, as well as a subscription dance in the evening.

Six tables of bridge were played during the afternoon, the prize being taken by Mrs. B. C. Smith.

UTTERMAN-WITT

The marriage of Miss Elsie Witt, formerly of this city, and W. G. Utterman took place yesterday at N. W. walk, Wis., the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed out of doors at 11 o'clock. The Rev. J. H. Klaus, pastor of the German Methodist church, officiated. The bride's gown was of white crepe de chine. She wore a veil and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride's roses. After a wedding dinner, at which there were twenty-five guests, Mr. and Mrs. Utterman left for Madison, where they will spend a portion of their honeymoon. They will return to this city, where they will live. The guests from La Crosse who attended the wedding were Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Klaus, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Henker, Mrs. Theodore Henker, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Starch, Mrs. Leon Moore, the Misses Anna Miller, Helen Zenger, Edna and Hattie Rochelt, Ella Henker, Edna Witt and Miss Eva Ruff of Toledo, Ohio.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE-TO-BE

Mrs. Henry Rooney entertained this afternoon at a handkerchief shower in honor of Miss Agnes Hendrickson, who will be one of the bride's of next week. There were twelve at the table, which was centered with a large bowl of nasturtiums. Crystal candle holders were placed at each end of the table. The guests were Mrs. J. W. Calloway, Mrs. A. Haller, Miss Edna Haller, Mrs. C. A. Hawkins, Mrs. Thomas Ryan, Mrs. N. F. Ritter, Mrs. J. A. Elliott, Mrs. J. C. Safford, Miss Jessie Calloway, Miss Agnes Erickson of Chicago and Miss Agnes Hendrickson.

LUNCHEON FOR MISS BARBER

Miss Alice Pryor entertained today in honor of Miss Bernice Barber and the young ladies who are to assist at her wedding. In the center of the table was a large basket of marguerites, and a smaller one was placed at the bride's plate, each being tied with large white chiffon bows. The place cards were dainty little cupids done in water colors. The bride-to-be was presented with a dozen cut glass sherbet glasses. The guests were Miss Genevieve Cook, of Minneapolis; the Misses Dagny Jorstad, Hazel Smith, Lenora Kohlhaus, Norma Patridge, Alice Parker, Leona Hussa and Leona Linker.

COFFEE

Miss Ida Boma entertained at an informal coffee this afternoon in honor of her guests Mrs. E. P. Host and Mrs. Lucke of Sioux City, and Mrs. E. A. Kruckman of La Mars.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Tribbey are spending their honeymoon in Chicago. Mrs. Tribbey was Miss Stella Katherine Preutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Preutz. Through an error in the account of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Tribbey, the bridegroom's name was given as Raymond.

Mrs. F. J. McGuire and daughter, Madison, Wis., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Felber.

Mrs. S. W. McCauley, Chicago, is a La Crosse visitor. Mrs. McCauley was formerly Miss Elizabeth Livingston of this city.

Mrs. E. G. Perkins is entertaining her sisters, the Misses McKenney and Cecelia Whalen, and Mrs. McKenzie, of Lake City, Minn.

Miss Mary Evans, who is spending the summer at the Evans cottage at Christmas Lake, is spending a few days in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Kolb, Wauwatosa, are guests at the home of Mrs. Kolb's sister, Mrs. C. H. Schweizer.

John Hayes, who has been spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hayes, has returned to Madison.

Mrs. C. A. Olberg, Mrs. Homer Hart, Jr., and Mrs. Theodore Stavrum, will entertain the Ibsen club Friday at the home of Mrs. Olberg.

Mrs. Frank Davis, who went to Madison for the birthday of her son Homer, has returned home.

Miss Catherine Campbell has arrived home from Winnipeg, and will spend a month with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Campbell, 520 South Fifth street.

BANKERS BACKING

KUOLT'S RULING

In Accord with Him on the Mosinee Ruling Overturned by Governor's Board

MADISON, Wis., July 9.—Bankers of the state are heartily in accord with Commissioner of Banking A. E. Kuolt's decision in withholding approval of an application for a charter for a new bank at Mosinee, which decision was recently overruled by the appeal board, according to officials of the state banking department. The subject will doubtless be further discussed at the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Bankers' association in Milwaukee on July 15 and 16.

The attitude of H. A. Moehlenpach of Clinton, president of the state association, is expressed in the following excerpt from a letter to Commissioner Kuolt:

"I shall make a point of urging all our bankers to support you in the matter of the granting of bank charters and shall call their attention to the action of the appeal board in the recent Mosinee case."

MOB AFTER MURDERER

BAY SPRINGS, MISS., JAIL BE-SIEGED BY MEN WHO WOULD LYNCH NEGRO SLAYER

BAY SPRINGS, Miss., July 9.—The jail here today was in a state of siege. A frantic mob, seeking to lynch Mose Johnson, a negro who confessed to killing one man and wounding two others in an attempt to rob a pay car, was at the doors early today.

Sheriff Jones swore in thirty additional deputies. The crowd remained sullenly outside while the sheriff moved his captives to an inner room and barricaded the jail.

The mob composed of 'Loun and Laurel citizens stormed the jail from 2 to 5 o'clock this morning. Sheriff Jones foiled the would-be lynchers by taking Johnson out a back way and transferring him to Jackson, Miss., for safekeeping.

BREAKS AIR RECORD

CARRANZA MAY BALK AT TERMS

Reported He Will Not Treat with Huerta Until the Capital Is Taken

WILL BE REFUSED RECOGNITION

United States Warns Rebel Chief It Will Have Nothing to Do with Rule of Force

WASHINGTON, July 9. — Until word comes from General Carranza direct regarding his future intentions, officials said today the United States must continue to mark time in the Mexican situation. All future actions, it was declared, are contingent on whether Carranza will treat with Huerta in an unofficial manner. State department officials are confident that he will. So is Minister Naon, local representative of the A. B. C. mediators. But the constitutionalist junta is dubious.

May Insist on Conquest
Reports that the constitutionalist field generals have opposed any change in the plan of Guadalupe, which provided for peace only after the conquest of Mexico City, are worrying them. They profess to have no confirmation or denial of this, despite the fact that they received during the last fifteen hours several long code messages direct from Carranza.

It has been stated to Carranza, through Consul Silliman, that under no circumstances will the United States or the great South American republics recognize a military government.

Will Be in Huerta's Position
Should Carranza set up his own government, through the capture of the Mexican capital, he will be placed in the same position as Huerta; recognition would be refused and it would be a physical impossibility for him to raise funds to run the business of state.

By insisting on this the United States feels confident that it will get the concessions from Carranza which will result in a compromise provisional government.

WAUKON BOY DIES WHILE SWIMMING

Was Bathing in Pool Near to City; Remains Not Found for One Hour

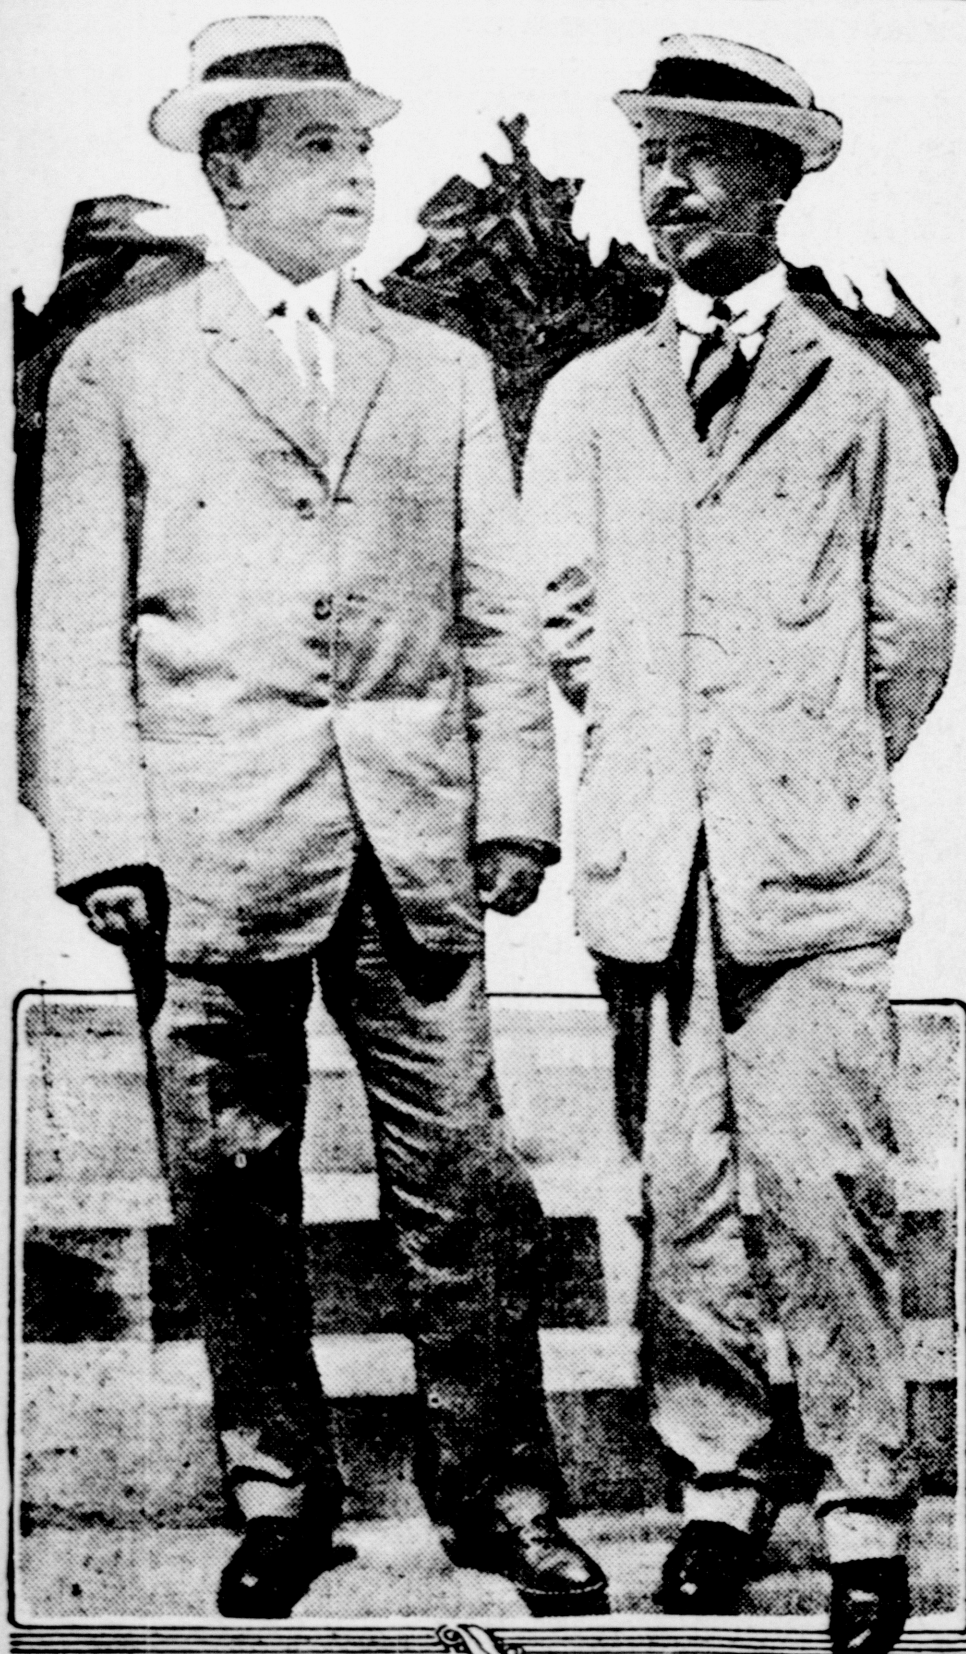

LANSING, Iowa, July 9.—(Special.)—Dewey Barthell, a youth of Waukon, was drowned just outside the limits of that town late Tuesday while swimming.

He was in a pool near to the city when the accident occurred. The body was not found until nearly an hour later by the lad's friends. Efforts to revive life failed, as he had been in the water too long.

The boy leaves a mother and several sisters to mourn his death.

Few men get far enough up the ladder of fame to make them dizzy.

BRING SECRET MESSAGE FROM CARRANZA

Alfredo Breceda (left) and F. R. Villavencio.

Alfredo Breceda and F. R. Villavencio arrived in Washington a few days ago with a secret message for the constitutional junta there. Breceda is private secretary to Carranza and Villavencio is secretary to Breceda.

SECOND LABOR WAR IS ON AT CALUMET

Secret Battle with Few Open Clashes Is Preliminary to Fresh Outbreak in Michigan

CALUMET, Mich., July 9.—A labor war, as bitter as that which marked the strike of last year, is again in progress in Michigan's copper country.

The same issues are at stake and the same forces are pitted against each other.

The present struggle is merely a continuation of the old, capital against labor, with the main issue the right of the miners to organize.

A Secret Fight

The new fight is being carried on secretly—beneath the surface—and there are few open clashes, but both sides realize that it is merely preliminary to a struggle that will make last year's famous strike appear insignificant.

The district is filled to overflowing with workers for union organizations who are secretly carrying their propaganda to the miners. Three labor organizations—the Western Federation of Miners, the I. W. W. and the United Mine Workers of America—have active representatives in the district and are fast organizing the workers for another strike. Hundreds of former members of the Western Federation of Miners are said to be again affiliating with that organization and the other labor bodies are also said to be meeting with success in their campaign for members.

Operators Busy

But in the meantime the operators have not been idle. Their power threatened, the mining companies are using every weapon at their command to halt the further march of unionism. Through their elaborate underground secret service systems, they are identifying those of their employees who affiliate with the unions and are ordering their immediate discharge. Workers make the charge that many who are merely suspected of actively supporting the labor unions are dismissed from their positions.

Their new struggle is not confined to the copper country alone. Throughout the iron fields a similar situation is said to exist. The socialists, ever powerful in the iron mining districts, are reported to be giving their entire support to the effort to unionize the men. In former years, the socialists have refused to throw their influence on the side of the federation agitators and their changed attitude now is said to have doubled the chances for a successful invasion of the iron fields by the labor organizations.

When open warfare will be resumed, no one seems willing to predict, but both sides realize it is as certain to come as tomorrow's sun, and they are preparing for it.

LINER DISABLED

QUEENSTOWN, July 9.—The Allan line steamship Sicilian arrived here today, having put back on her voyage to Montreal because of broken machinery. The Sicilian sailed from London July 2, stopping at Havre July 3, and it was after leaving the latter port that her machinery broke down. The vessel had 250 passengers aboard who will probably be transferred to another liner.

JORDAN ELECTED N. E. A. PRESIDENT

Californian Given Post by Unanimous Vote in Convention at St. Paul

WOMEN'S FIGHT NOT DEVELOPED

Expected Revolt to Force Miss Margaret Haley Into Office Does Not Take Place

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 9.—David Starr Jordan of California, one of the most prominent of present day educators, was unanimously elected president of the National Education association at the annual business session here today.

No other candidate was mentioned and the entire list of officers and directors decided upon by the nominating committee was approved.

Men Block Attempt

Only once during the voting was there any hint of a fight on the convention floor and that was after the reading of the list of directors as selected by the committee. Miss Margaret Haley of Chicago attempted to speak. Immediately the men of the convention jumped to their feet and Miss Haley's voice was drowned in uproars of "question." No other woman attempted to take the floor.

Miss Grace M. Shepherd of Boise, Idaho, was re-elected treasurer and D. W. Springer of Ann Arbor, Mich., continues as secretary.

The following vice presidents were elected:

Joseph Swain, Pennsylvania; Miss Grace Strong, New York; W. R. Seiders, Idaho; Miss Menen Jefferson, Illinois; J. W. Brister, Tennessee; Miss Isabelle Williams, Minnesota; R. C. Stearns, Virginia; Mrs. Josephine Preston, Washington; J. G. Colcott, Indiana, and Dr. F. L. Koch, South Dakota.

Women delegates to the National Education association mustered their strength this morning before entering the business session of the convention, at which officers will be elected. The old guard is spreading a rumor that the women intend to nominate Miss Margaret Haley of Chicago as president from the floor, and use their overwhelming strength to place her in office.

The nominating committee met this morning and was expected to report out names of three women for vice presidents.

Urges Parcel Post Marketing

A number of interesting addresses were delivered this morning and more are scheduled today. Lewis B. Flohr, assistant in the office of markets at Washington, told club leaders the parcel post offered the best means of solving the farmers' marketing problems. Before the same audience, Rufus Stanley of Elmira, N. Y., urged the training of city boys for farm life.

E. J. Tobin, county superintendent of schools, Chicago, speaking to the national club leaders, advocated the hiring of a competent worker to devote his entire time to the building up of agricultural clubs and making rural communities better places to live.

Girls reason as well as boys but must have interesting material before they will apply their reasoning power was one of the principles laid down by Emma J. Fordyce, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in explaining her theory of teaching physics to girls.

Know Little of Bible

Vernon P. Squires, University of North Dakota, declared in an address on the North Dakota plan of Bible study that experiment had proved that most of the present day students are unable to explain three out of five common Biblical allusions. He advocated teaching Biblical geography and history.

One of the features of the afternoon session will be discussions by noted teachers of English. Addresses on essentials of English work in all branches of education will be delivered. The speakers will be Charles W. Evans, supervisor of English, East Orange, N. J.; Minnie Porter, Gary, Ind., and C. R. Rounds, Milwaukee.

For Home Training
One of the most interesting addresses of the convention was that of Mrs. Maggie W. Barry, head of the department of English in the North Texas college at Sherman, Texas. She declared that legislative enactments and community movements would never make better children in themselves and that the real development of the child had to be carried on in the home.

In a report to the business session this afternoon, the resolutions committee endorsed woman's suffrage, equal pay for equal work without regard to sex, simplified spelling, social centers, larger playgrounds, increased salaries for teachers, pensions for teachers and the settlement of international differences by arbitration. President Wilson's "watchful waiting" policy was approved.

The association did not recommend sex hygiene in the schools but it recommends "that institutions preparing teachers give attention to such subjects as would qualify for instruction in the particular field of sex hygiene."

The association directs attention "to the grave dangers ethical and social arising out of a sex consciousness stimulated by undue emphasis on sex problems and relations."

And there are bosses who never work without protruding their chests.

O'MALLEY'S COIN MYTH SAY POLICE

Prove that Man Who Claimed to Have Been Victim of Two Women Had Only Few Dollars

GIRLS ARE FREED OF CHARGE

Permitted to Leave and O'Malley Left Police Station Where He Recovered from Outing

The gay and festive Roger O'Malley, Minneapolis railroad fireman, who claimed he was robbed by two women of $60.00, was this morning released from central police station. Lily Rainsner, La Crosse, and Ethel Davis, St. Paul, the two women he accused, were freed.

Mrs. Helen Delaney, at which place O'Malley and one of the girls, it is claimed, occupied a room, was found guilty of running a disorderly house and was fined $52.00 and costs.

Detectives proved that O'Malley's "sixty" was a myth. They proved that he had stayed at Frank Quinn's rooming house the night before the alleged robbery and had deposited with the proprietor $14.00.

The "ten" which the girls admitted taking was the "pay" of one of the girls.

DIRECTORS CALL MELLE "BOSS"

Attorney Files Memorandum Defending Acts of New Haven Directorate

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Memorandum on behalf of William S. Skinner and Charles F. Brooker, New Haven directors, defending the policies and acts of the New Haven directorate, was filed today with the interstate commerce commission by Attorney William Nelson Cromwell.

The memorandum reviews the New Haven case at length. It declares that the former president, Mellen, not J. P. Morgan, dominated the New Haven board, that no property was ever bought or acquired without Mellen's approval, and that the policy of extension was well known to the stockholders. The Grand Trunk deal was Mellen's own personal work, the memorandum said.

"The directors of the New Haven have honestly, conscientiously and attentively performed their duties and have exercised all reasonable care and judgment in the general conduct of the affairs of the road," they declared.

The commission is said to be preparing its report and recommendations in connection with the New Haven investigation, and will be ready to make them public in a short time.

TWO PACKETS AT LEVEE HERE TODAY

Two packets tied up at the levee today, the Morning Star and the Quincy, both bound down river, the former for Davenport and the latter for St. Louis. Considerable freight and a number of passengers were landed from both. The Pathfinder, a boat belonging to the J. M. Atlee Lumber company of Stillwater, Minn., passed through the bridge yesterday afternoon bound for Fort Madison, Iowa.

GREEN PIG SCARES TOPERS.

NEW YORK, July 9.—A number of New Yorkers went on the water wagon today. And this is why:

Otto Schmalz won a pig at a raffle. The porker escaped and upset a bucket of green paint over his pink body. When Schmalz then brought the green pig to New York on a Long Island train there was a small sized riot by all those aboard who had inhaled a few.

Most of them decided to swear off the stuff.

ATTACKS WILSON AS "THEORIST"

Senator Townsend of Michigan Says President Flies in Face of All Experience

URGES CONGRESS TO ADJOURN

Makes Vigorous Assault on Trust Legislation Program of the Administration

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Woodrow Wilson was painted to the senate today by Senator Townsend of Michigan as a "theorist who, without constructive business experience of his own, nevertheless flies into the face of all experience and insists in driving his docile congressional adherents on to dangerous and untenable grounds."

Urges Adjournment

Senator Townsend made a vigorous attack upon the administration's "trust program," urging that it was the duty of congress to adjourn and go home. He declared that this more than anything else, was desired by the public.

"Much of the legislation already written into law and now in the process of enactment is an impeachment of the independence of congress, for it never would have been enacted if the national legislature had followed the dictates of its own judgment as to what was best and necessary for the good of the people."

"I realize that no national legislator will admit that he is actuated by a desire to throttle or impede legitimate industries, and I do not believe that any one is primarily so actuated, but I do believe that in their desire to curry what they believe to be popular favor, some are willing to say and do things which appeal to passion and prejudice, rather than to reason."

Believes in Control

"Let it not be understood from what I have said that business should go unbridled and uncontrolled. It should not be hobbled or hamstrung; but inasmuch as it can exist only under government, it should be subject to government, and inasmuch as a republic is one for the just and absolutely equal benefit of all, no business man and no other men should be permitted to employ his money, his labor or his genius to the detriment of any other man."

NAMES CUSTOM COLLECTOR

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The president today nominated:

To be collector of customs for the district of New Orleans: M. J. Foster of Franklin, La. To be receiver of public moneys at Duluth: James L. Travers of Waukon, Minn.

UNIQUE DEFENSE FREES ED. BAUER

Attorney Withrow Argues that Marshal Only Believed He Was Hit by Prisoner

PROBABLY NOT WITNESS OF CRIME

Ten Minutes After the Shot Was Fired He Was Nearly Mile Away Visiting Girl

NEW YORK, July 9.—Although Mrs. Florence Carman is locked in the Mineola jail on a warrant in connection with the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey, who was shot down by a hand of mystery while in Dr. Carman's office at Freeport, L. I., developments today caused belief that the accused woman might be released Monday.

The story of E. T. Bards that he saw a woman on the lawn of the Carman home at time of the murder was apparently shattered today. It was Bards' testimony which resulted in the arrest of Mrs. Carman. Sheriff Pettit, on investigation, however, said that he had learned that within ten minutes after the shooting Bards was at the home of a young woman three-quarters of a mile away. The sheriff said the girl told him that Bards was not excited and did not appear as though he had been running. He made no mention of the shooting.

Mrs. Nellie Gherken, in whose home Bards rooms, said he had not mentioned the shooting to her until Monday, when he said he was going to the funeral of Mrs. Bailey.

Attorney Levy for Mrs. Carman declared he was confident Bards' testimony could be absolutely discredited on cross examination Monday.

Friends of the Carman family in Freeport, it was said today, are ready to furnish as much as $100,000 as bail for Mrs. Carman if she is still held after Monday. The accused woman was as composed as ever today. The jail matron said she slept well last night.

It was necessary to call in a physician to attend Mrs. Carman today. During the morning her reserve was broken and she collapsed. The physician prescribed medicine to quiet her nerves and by noon she had regained her composure.

ASKS FOR DIVORCE AND TWO CHILDREN

Mrs. C. E. Bruchmann Charges Husband with Being a Habitual Drunkard

Mrs. Matilda Bruchmann started a suit for divorce in the circuit court this morning. She charges that her husband, Christian E. Bruchmann, is a habitual drunkard and that he refuses to support her and their two children.

Ruth, who is six, and William, eight years old, are the children. The wife and mother asks for their custody.

Bruchmann at one time worked for the John Gund Brewing company. Later he owned a saloon at 500 Avon street. Now he is in the state of North Dakota.

The wife says that it was necessary, on three occasions, to have her husband arrested to save herself from bodily harm. On the tenth of June last year, she says, she was ready to start divorce proceedings. At that time her husband promised to do better and stop drinking. Shortly after that she says he abandoned her.

NECK IS PIERCED BOY SLIGHTLY HURT

George, the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Castle, 809 Ferry street, is suffering no complications from the wound inflicted yesterday afternoon, when he fell from a bicycle and forced a stick through his neck. Dr. J. A. Rowles, who is attending the boy, states that the swelling has subsided considerably and the boy is resting easily. He is of the opinion that the boy will suffer no serious results from the accident.

ASK 50 MILLIONS IN BACK TAXES

CHICAGO, July 9.—Suits for the recovery of $50,000,000 in back taxes have been started by Cook county against delinquents. No individuals are named in the suit.

The suit is brought under the criminal law. The state's attorney's office refused today to disclose any names, but intimated that prominent millionaires as well as officials representing the taxing authorities are expected to be involved.

QUITS HUBBY BECAUSE HE SAID SHE DRANK MANY SCOOPS OF BEER

Mrs. Bertha Helgeson refuses to live with her husband, Herman Helgeson, South Eleventh street, saloonkeeper, because he said she drank from six to eight "scoops" of beer a day.

This was her decision this morning despite the advice and pleas of Police Judge Edward Cronon that they "kiss and make up."

Mrs. Helgeson caused her husband's arrest, charging abusive language. He denied it and countered with the assertion that his wife was used to "lifting" from six to eight mugs of beer per day.

He contended that her mental condition, as a result of the beer consumption, was not good, that she lost her temper easily and could not be appealed to by reason.

"Are you willing to forgive, forget and make up," asked Judge Cronon.

"I certainly am. I want to take her home," said Helgeson.

"Not me," replied the wife. "I'll never live with a man who claims I drink from six to eight 'scoops' of beer a day."

The case against the husband was dismissed and they took opposite directions.

BLAIR ASKS STATE AID IN EDUCATION

Superintendent of Illinois Schools Would Make Education More Uniform in Schools

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 9.—A plan for the state to assume a greater proportion of the cost of public education, now so nearly entirely borne by smaller units, in order that education might become more nearly uniform and less subject to local differences in taste, educational standards and financial ability, was the substance of an address on School Revenues delivered before the school patrons section of the National Education association today by State Superintendent F. G. Blair of Illinois.

History is Traced
Superintendent Blair traced the history of education in the United States, using Illinois as an example, from the time when all tutoring was private and children without the advantages of instructors which only family wealth could bring, went untaught, through the period of free and then compulsory education down to the present day when in most states even high school training is available at public expense to all children whether they live in high school districts or not.

"All these considerations have helped to bring before us," Blair said, "the great increase in taxation necessary to meet the demands of this program to give all the children of all the people of the commonwealth real educational opportunity. It soon became evident that the district alone could not meet these revenue demands. In Illinois the public school system has been handi-

RECORD STOLEN AT RACINE FOR DELAY

RACINE, Wis., July 9.—While discussing a proposition to vacate a portion of Seventeenth street, in behalf of the Gold Medal Camp Furniture company, the city council discovered that the manuscript containing the proposal originally submitted, had disappeared from the files of the clerk's office. The matter has been hanging fire for several months owing to the opposition of property owners living near the factory. It is presumed the records were stolen in order to delay action.

U. S. SELLS BATTLESHIP'S

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The battleships Idaho and Mississippi were formally sold today to Greece, Secretary of the Navy Daniels receiving a check for $12,535,275.96 for them. This was their original cost.

BACHELOR GIRLS GUESTS AT DANCE

Miss Marie Sullivan Entertains for Club; County School Board Has Session

M'GREGOR, Iowa, July 9.—Miss Marie Sullivan entertained a large company of friends at a pleasant dancing party in the Opera house on Thursday evening. The party was given for the Bachelor Girls' club, of which Miss Sullivan is a member. A number of the younger married couples were also invited making in all a company of about 70. The hall was decorated in ferns and roses. Garramoni's harp orchestra furnished the music. During the evening punch and waters were served. Among the Bachelor Girls no longer living in McGregor who were present were Mrs. Carl Melhop of Dubuque; Mrs. Comstock of Chicago, and Miss Florence McMichael of Denver.

Re-elect Officers

The annual meeting of the school board of Mendon township was held at the State bank Wednesday evening. The directors for the new year for the several districts are Leonard Denning, Adam Erbe, M. J. Riley, Geo. Davies, Andrew Trygg, A. J. Barr and S. A. McMillan. With the exception of Leonard Denning who succeeds Walter Levisness, the board is the same as the old one. The old officers were re-elected. They are president, Adam Erbe; secretary, Eva Jordan; treasurer, J. A. Ramage.

Bentley-Hallberg

Yesterday afternoon at the Reynolds' hotel occurred the marriage of Martin Hallberg and Miss Della Bentley, Rev. Jessup performing the ceremony. Following the ceremony the young couple drove out to the farm near town where they will make their home. Both bride and groom are members of well known families of this vicinity.

Is Bound Over

In the preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Sullivan of the case of the State of Iowa vs. Chas. J. Wolfe for violation of quarantine of cattle pronounced tubercular, Mr. Wolfe was bound over to appear before the grand jury in September.

"NATIONAL HERO SERIES" NO. 5

Leif Ericsson—The Discoverer of America

THE FIRST WHITE MEN to tread American soil were Leif Ericsson and his sea-dashed Viking crew. This was nearly a thousand years ago, when the Scandinavian peoples ruled the seas and held the secrets of navigation. The history of the fair-haired, liberty-loving sons and daughters of Sweden, Norway and Denmark is rich in song and story. We have millions of these splendid folk in our own land, and wherever the standard of Liberty and Human Progress has been raised they are found in the front rank, bravely fighting for the Right. Better citizens or greater lovers of Personal Liberty are unknown. For centuries our full-blooded Scandinavian brothers have been moderate users of Barley-Malt brews. Who can truthfully say it has injured them in any way? It is the ancient heritage of these peoples to revolt at Prohibitory Laws, and their vote is registered almost to a man against such legislation. For 57 years Scandinavians have been drinkers of the honestly-brewed beers of Anheuser-Busch. They have helped to make their great brand BUDWEISER exceed the sales of any other beer by millions of bottles. Seven thousand, five hundred men, all in all, are daily required to keep pace with the natural public demand for Budweiser.

MANUAL TRAINING IN SALEM SCHOOL

Mrs. Ida Tilson Is Elected as Clerk of Board of Education; Other News Items

WEST SALEM, Wis., July 9.—Mrs. Ida Tilson was elected clerk of the board of education Monday evening at the annual school meeting. Upon the board's recommendation it was voted to put in manual training the coming year.

Mrs. Thurlow Dead
The many Salem friends of Mrs. Thurlow regret to hear of her sudden death at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Kendall, at Kansas City, Monday evening. Mrs. Thurlow made many warm friends here during her numerous visits at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. McKee.

Mrs. Clarence Johnson came up from La Crosse Wednesday noon to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kenrick. The canning factory has shut down for a week until the late peas are ripe.

Mrs. John Bossford of Mauston and her sister, Mrs. M. Lawson of Garrison, N. D., are visiting their sister and niece, Mesdames George De Lap and Percy Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Larson spent Sunday at Onalaska.

Mrs. Laura Larson left the last of the week for a prolonged visit at Syracuse, N. Y.

Mrs. Fliner of Ettrick, Wis., is spending the week here at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenrick.

Mrs. D. Trimbell and daughter Markverite went to Markesan, Wis., Monday to visit relatives and friends.

Prof. J. O. Engleman of Decatur, Ill., spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Oltman and with the Rev. D. C. Jones and family of La Crosse, who are now occupying the house recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Fullerton, just west of the Bert Smith home.

H. D. Griswold and C. D. Griswold are in New York on business.

Mrs. Foltz and daughter of Burlington, Wis., returned home the first of the week after spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman.

Mrs. Richmond of La Crosse was a business caller here Wednesday. Mrs. S. L. McKee left Wednesday noon for Berlin, Wis., to attend the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Thurlow.

FIGHTS APPROPRIATION

WASHINGTON, July 9.—"The world has gone mad on 'society'!" Senator Vardaman declared in denouncing in the senate an appropriation of $500,000 for a government exposition building in San Francisco which included $50,000 for entertainment of visitors.

The appropriation was allowed Tuesday but yesterday Vardaman moved to reconsider.

The senate voted down Vardaman's motion 51 to 7.

HENWOOD MUST HANG

DENER, Colo., July 9.—Unless Governor Ammons commutes his sentence, Harold F. Henwood, slayer of George S. Copeland must hang during the week of October 25. The Colorado supreme court today sustained the verdict of guilty.

W. F. Webber of Oconomowoc, is in Sparta to oversee the laying of the asphalt paving.

Arm is Fractured
Pearl Millard sustained some serious injuries from a fall yesterday. He was running at a fairly good rate when his toe caught in a wide crack and Pearl was pitched headlong, falling on his arm, which was badly broken.

Lights Ready Soon

Work on the curb lighting system which was suspended because of the damage done by the recent storms, has again been resumed, and it is very probable that the curb lights will be in working order by Saturday evening. Nearly all the lamp posts have been erected and much of the wiring has been completed.

Richard Mann left yesterday for Rochester, where he will be employed by the city for a short time.

T. B. Tuttle of Winona, was in Sparta yesterday on business.

FRANCE TO EXHIBIT

PARIS, July 9.—The chamber of deputies today adopted the committee report favoring an appropriation for official French representation at the Panama exposition at San Francisco by a vote of 461 to 35.

ENGLISH BEAT BELGIANS.

FOLKESTONE, England, July 9.—England's tennis champions trounced Belgium in tennis doubles today preliminary to the Davis cup matches. By winning today's games, the English team qualifies to meet the French contenders.

THE WEARY WAY

Daily Becoming Less Wearisome to Many in La Crosse

With a back that aches all day, With rest disturbed at night, Annoying urinary disorders, 'Tis a weary way, indeed. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney trouble. Are endorsed by La Crosse citizens.

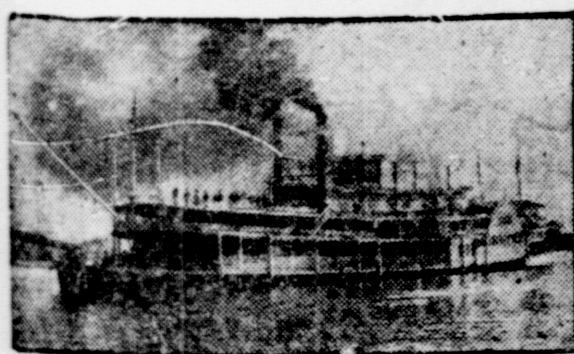

W. Delphenick, 1718 Badger St., La Crosse, Wis., says: "I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to every one I have heard complaining of kidney trouble. My back gave out three years ago and from morning until night, I suffered from misery over my kidneys. I was delivering milk at that time and could hardly get in and out of the wagon. Someone told me that Doan's Kidney Pills would cure me and I tried them. They lived up to the claims made for them and soon removed every sign of pain in my back. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me to stay cured. I have recommended them before and I am glad to confirm my previous statement." For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Out of Sorts

THAT IS, something is wrong with baby, but we can't tell just what it is. All mothers recognize the term by the lassitude, weakness, loss of appetite, inclination to sleep, heavy breathing, and lack of interest shown by baby. These are the symptoms of sickness. It may be fever, congestion, worms, croup, diphtheria, or scarlatina. Do not lose a minute. Give the child Castoria. It will start the digestive organs into operation, open the pores of the skin, carry off the foetid matter, and drive away the threatened sickness.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of

THAT clean, long filler is a great comfort. It means that as you smoke your mild Tom Moore you will never draw small tobacco shreds along with the smoke.

In addition it enables our skilled cigar makers to shape for you the handsomest cigar that 10c can buy.

The next time you buy Tom Moores, ask particularly for the "Monarch" size.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD BY HAL SHERIDAN

Orders for cyclone cellars are going out from the American League. With one sweep the White Sox swirled from fourth to second place by downing the Red Sox twice in one afternoon.

It took ten innings to turn the trick in the first game, but when Bedient weakened in the final session Chicago fell on him for two runs.

Benz rocked the boat in the second session by being knocked out of the box in the eighth, but Faber checked the Boston rally when the White Sox were still one run to the good.

In the meantime old man Plank was performing for the Athletics and keeping them in front of the storm. Plank held Detroit to three hits and shut them out. The Athletics put over three runs with only four hits off Daus.

Birdie Cree, returning from the minors was the chief swatter for the Yanks in trouncing the Naps. Cree hit safely thrice in as many times at bat. His final knock started a rally netting four runs.

St. Louis nosed Boston out of fifth place by taking the second game of the series from Washington. Boehling was driven from the mound in two innings with a cluster of six hits and five runs.

The Giants dropped their third successive game, going down before the St. Louis Cards. Matty pitched but his support blew up when it looked like the old master was about to cop.

It was a wild time in Chicago. The Braves came out on top after eleven innings during which 31 men were mixed up in one way or another. O'Day used 18.

ENGLISH AFTER BILLIARD TITLE
LONDON, July 9.—Having copped in open and amateur golf, polo, university relay racing, not to mention the snatching of the lightweight fight diadem, John Bull came to bat today with a challenge to Willie Hoppe for the "world's championship in billiards." The English titleholder, Melbourne Inman, issued the defy. It was immediately accepted by Hoppe. Inman sails for America on the Aquitania Saturday.

KILBANE CHALLENGES WELSH
CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 9.—Jimmy Dunn, manager of Featherweight Champion Johnny Kilbane, yesterday afternoon issued a challenge to Freddie Welsh, new lightweight champion, for a bout between Kilbane and Welsh for the lightweight title. Welsh is asked to make 133 pounds ringside.

The featherweight champion has agreed to fight Welsh in England if the latter so desires and at any time Welsh stipulates.

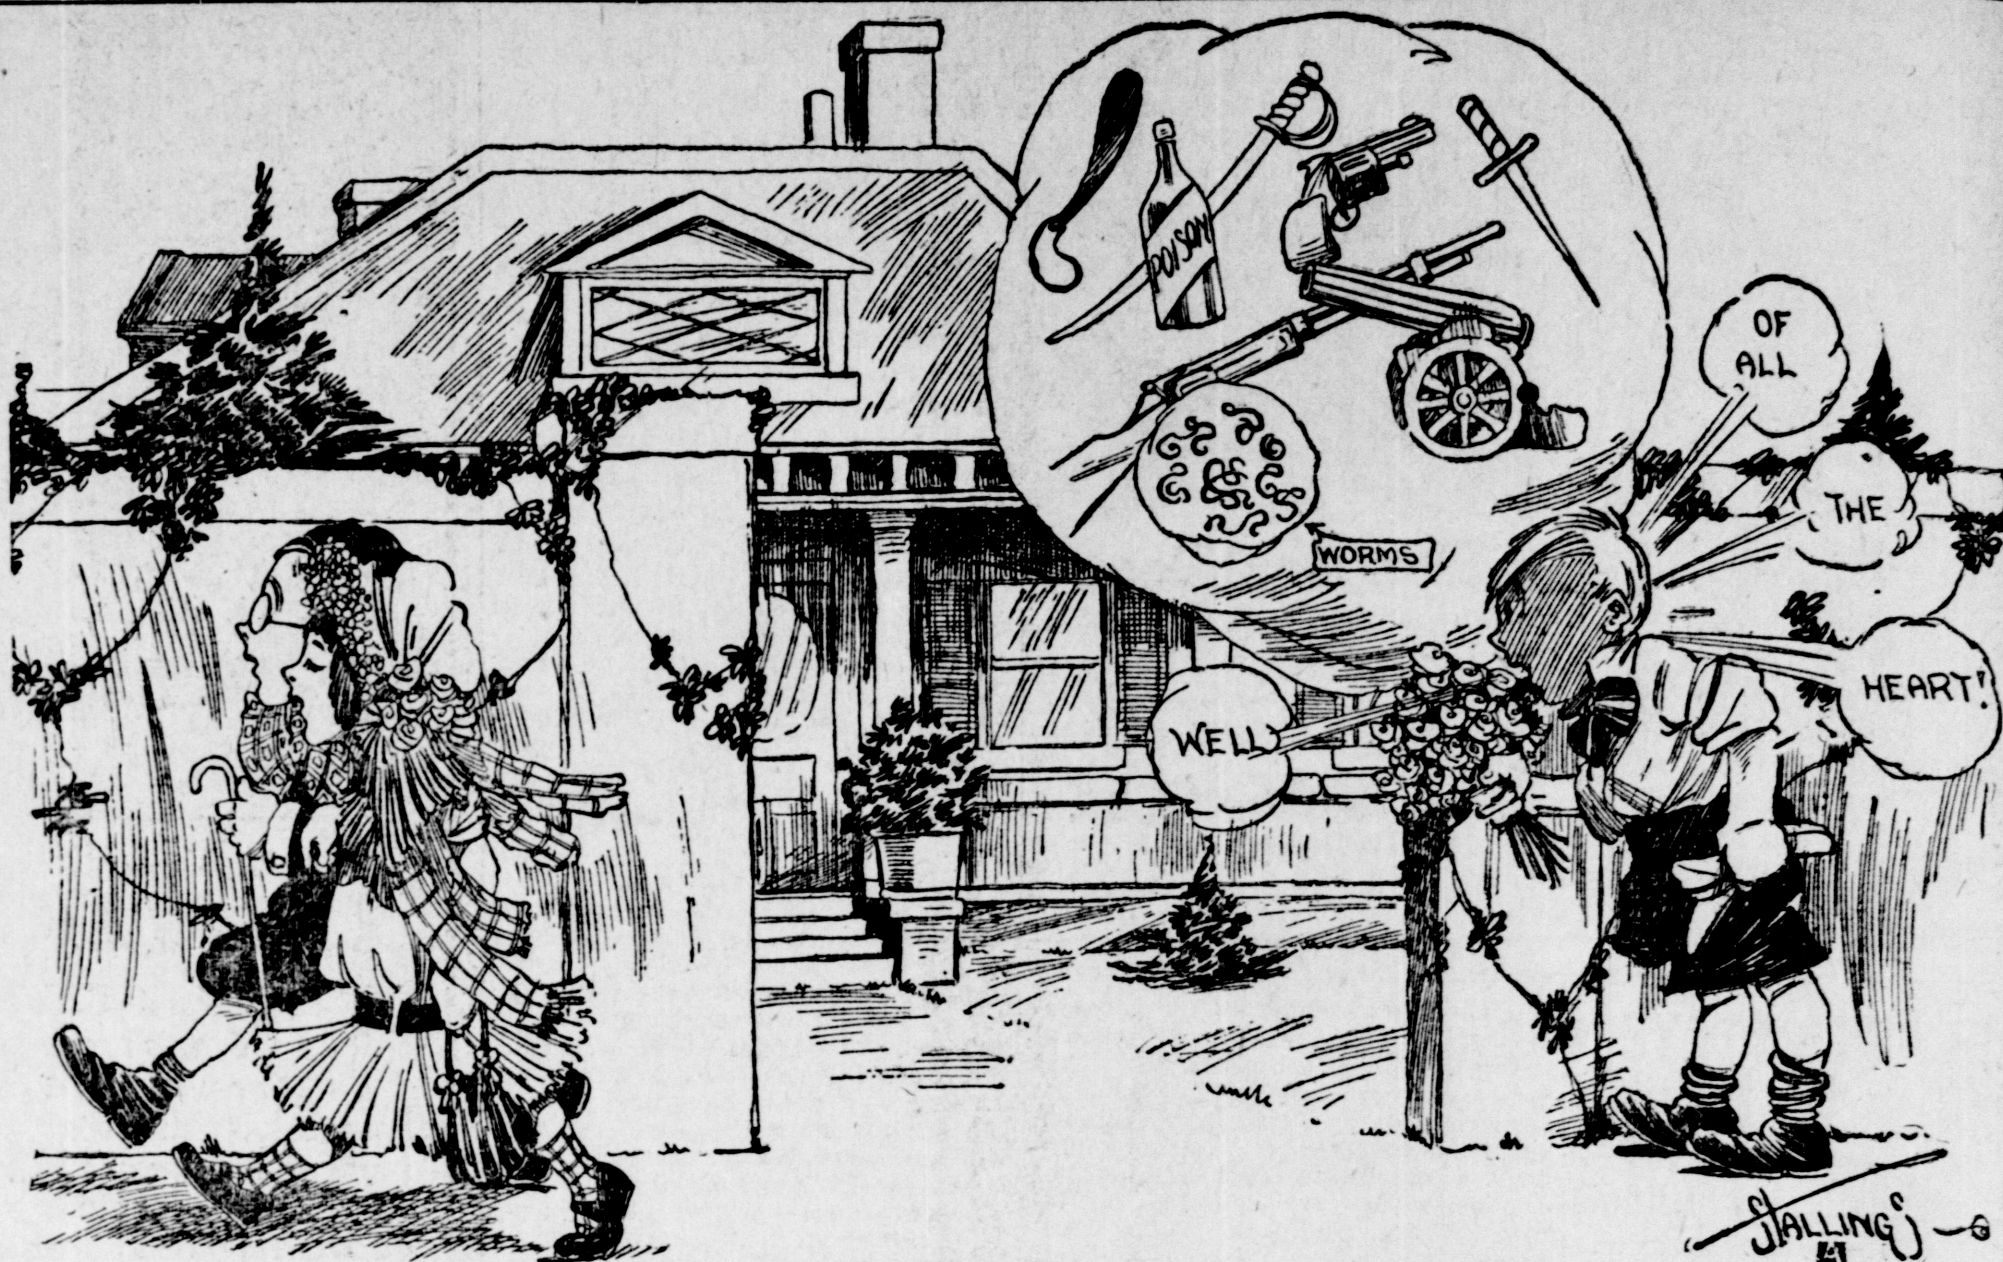

Dunn yesterday afternoon mailed the challenge to Welsh.

If a man is disposed to lie about it, his oath won't cut a great deal of figure.

RETURN TO HOMES AFTER VISIT HERE

BROWNSVILLE, Minn., July 9.—Miss Margaret Palmer, Lucy Brown and Lucy Bates returned home Monday after attending the home-coming in La Crosse.

Hilliard Winslow spent the week with his parents.

Grant Darling of La Crosse visited with his grandfather, James Darling, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bissen are now occupying their new home on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Booker and children of La Crosse are visiting with the latter's sister, Mrs. Reuben Harder this week.

Mrs. George Billings and children of Dakota and visiting friends in the village.

Albert Summermeier of New Albin visited a few days in the village the past week.

Miss Myrtle Wolff of St. Paul spent a few days with her parents.

SUMMITS PLAY ETTRICK SUNDAY

The La Crosse Summits will clash with the Ettrick baseball team Sunday. The Summits expect to bring the fast Ettrick team to defeat. The two teams are rivals and a hard game is expected. It is probable that the game will draw a real crowd. Smevot or Berny will be on the mound for the Summits, and R. Johnson will do the receiving.

MUST START BY JULY 18
HAMMONDSPORT, N. Y., July 9.—Working at top speed to perfect the big pontoons for the trans-Atlantic flier America, Lieut. Porte, R. N., was determined today that the ship must be ready for transport from New York to New Foundland July 18. Curtiss' submerged fins give great lifting power, but only at great speed. Hence they were abandoned.

Sometimes it seems they are called waiters because they keep you waiting so long.

"SUFF" SPOUSE TO LEAVE ANTI-WIFE

INDIANAPOLIS, July 9.—Woman suffrage and women's part in the political game were the questions that caused domestic unhappiness in the home of Edwin M. Lee, former republican and later progressive state chairman, according to friends who discussed Lee's suit for divorce today. The usual conditions, however, were reversed. Lee was strong for woman suffrage and believed in women entering politics. His wife, who is twelve years older than Lee, was an anti-suffragist.

LIGHTNING CAUSES GREAT LOSS
MADISON, Wis., July 9.—There were eight fires in June due to lightning in Wisconsin. The loss was $99,220, according to Fire Marshal Host's report. The total of fires was 305, with $439,485 loss and total insurance $884,620.

Here's a Hunch:

FIRST thing you do next get a tidy red tin of Prince Albert and jam it into a jimmy pipe or roll a makin's cigarette. Either will make peace with your tongue before the first inning's over. For you never smoked the likes of P. A.—tobacco made by an exclusive patented process that takes out the bite and the parch.

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

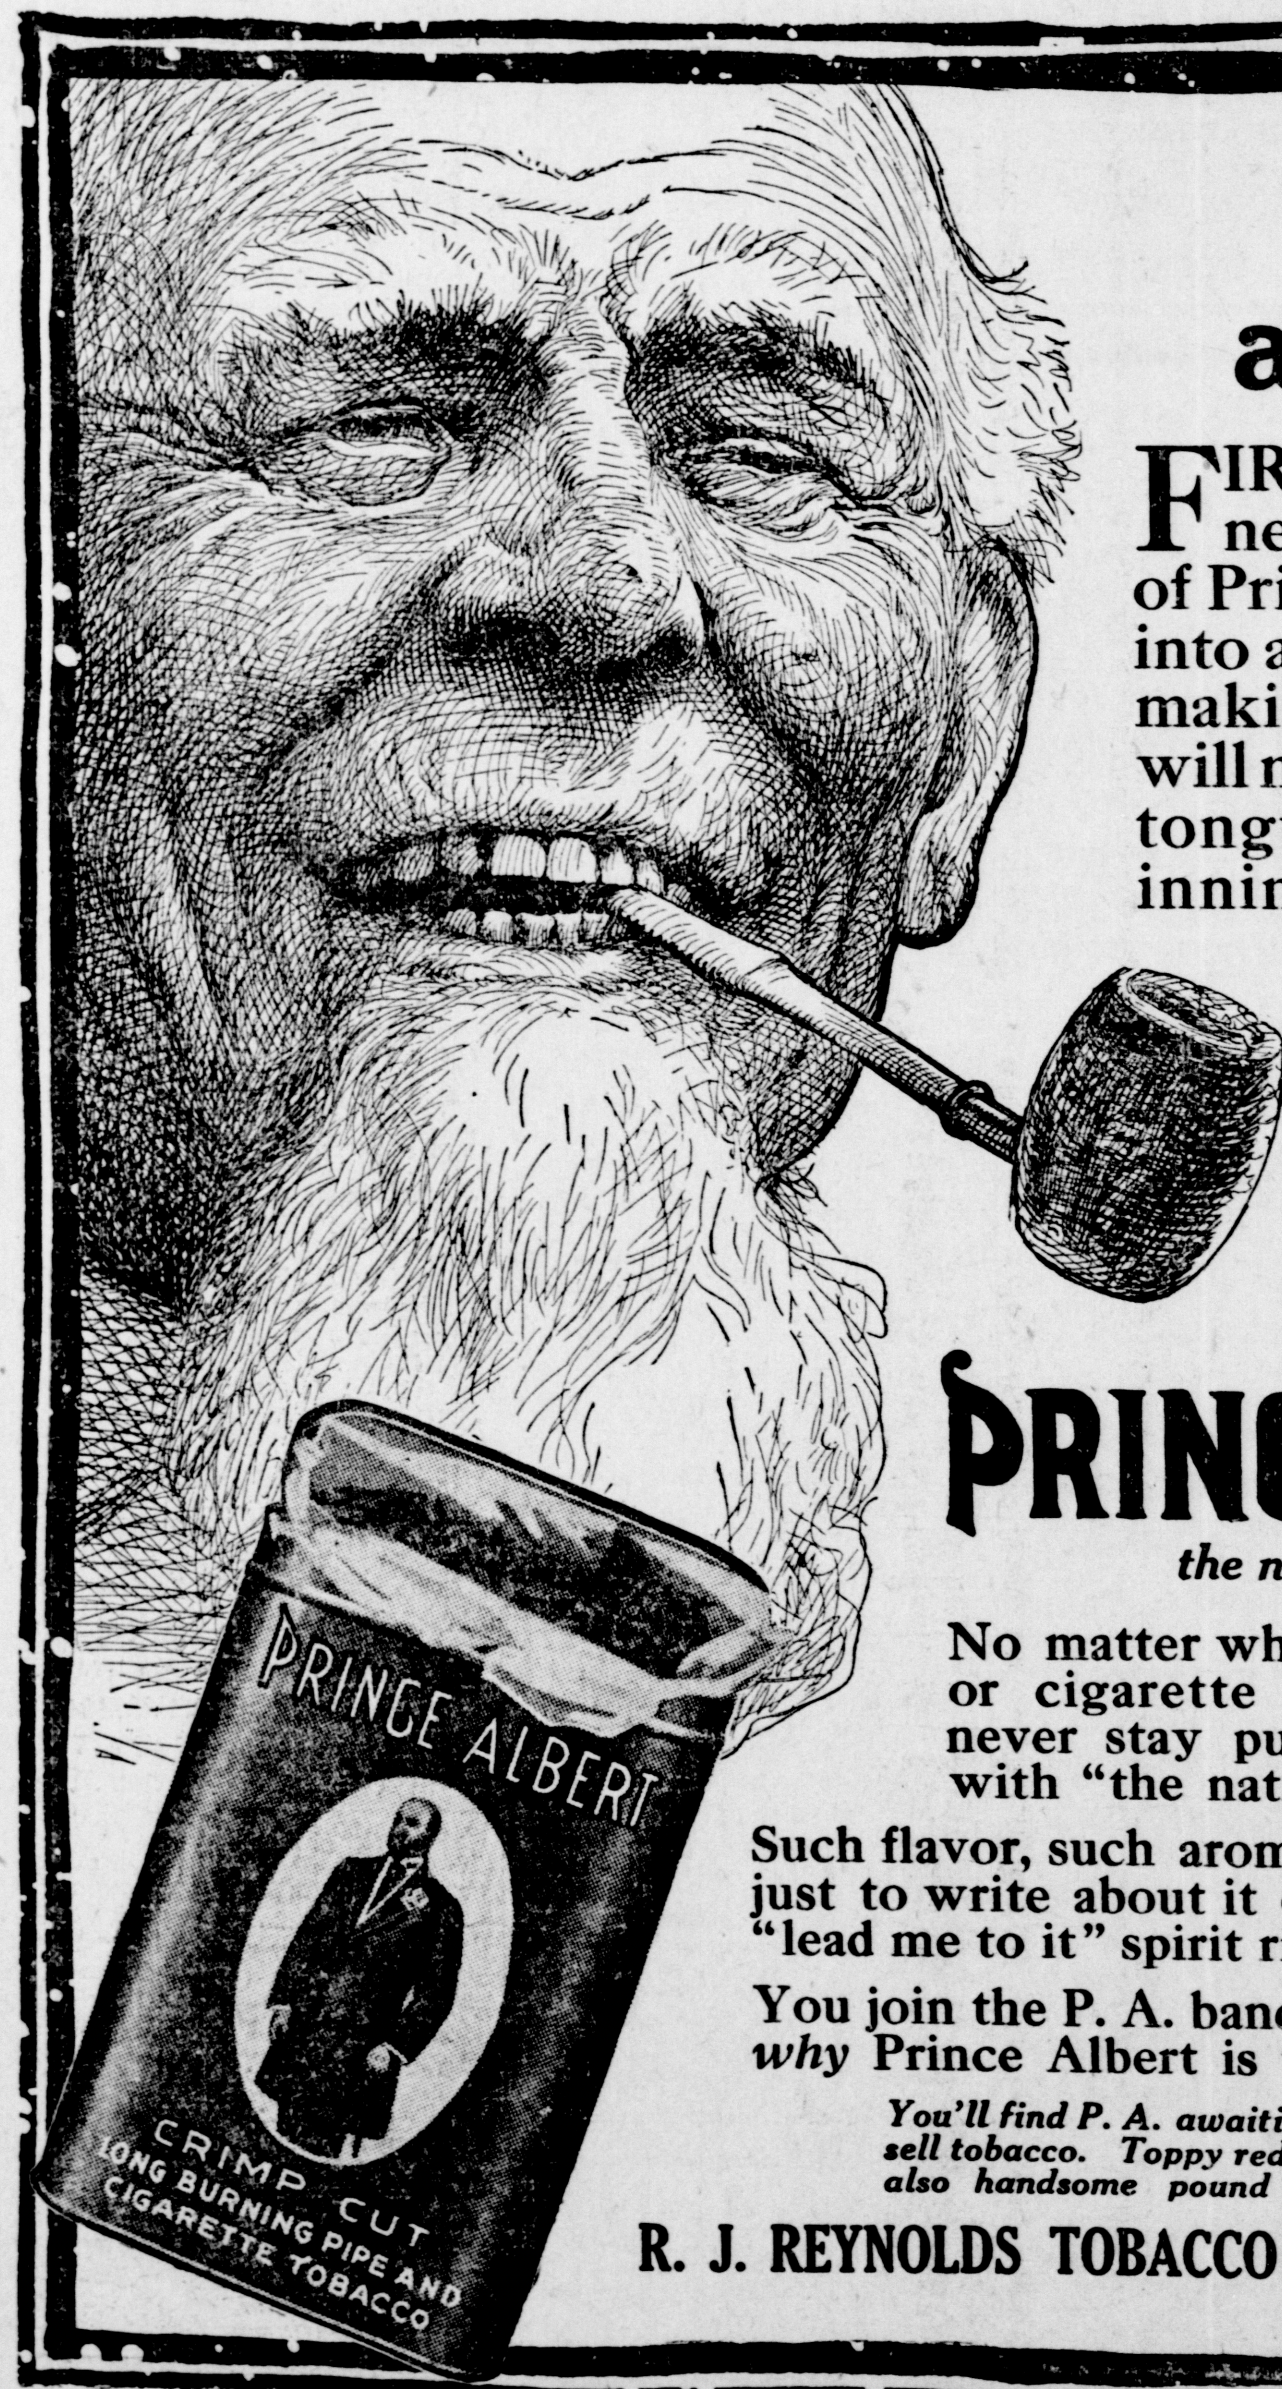

No matter what you pay for your pipe or cigarette makin's tobacco, you'll never stay put till you get acquainted with "the national joy smoke."

Such flavor, such aroma, such freshness! Why, just to write about it or talk about it puts that "lead me to it" spirit right into your system.

You join the P. A. band and find out for yourself why Prince Albert is the national joy smoke.

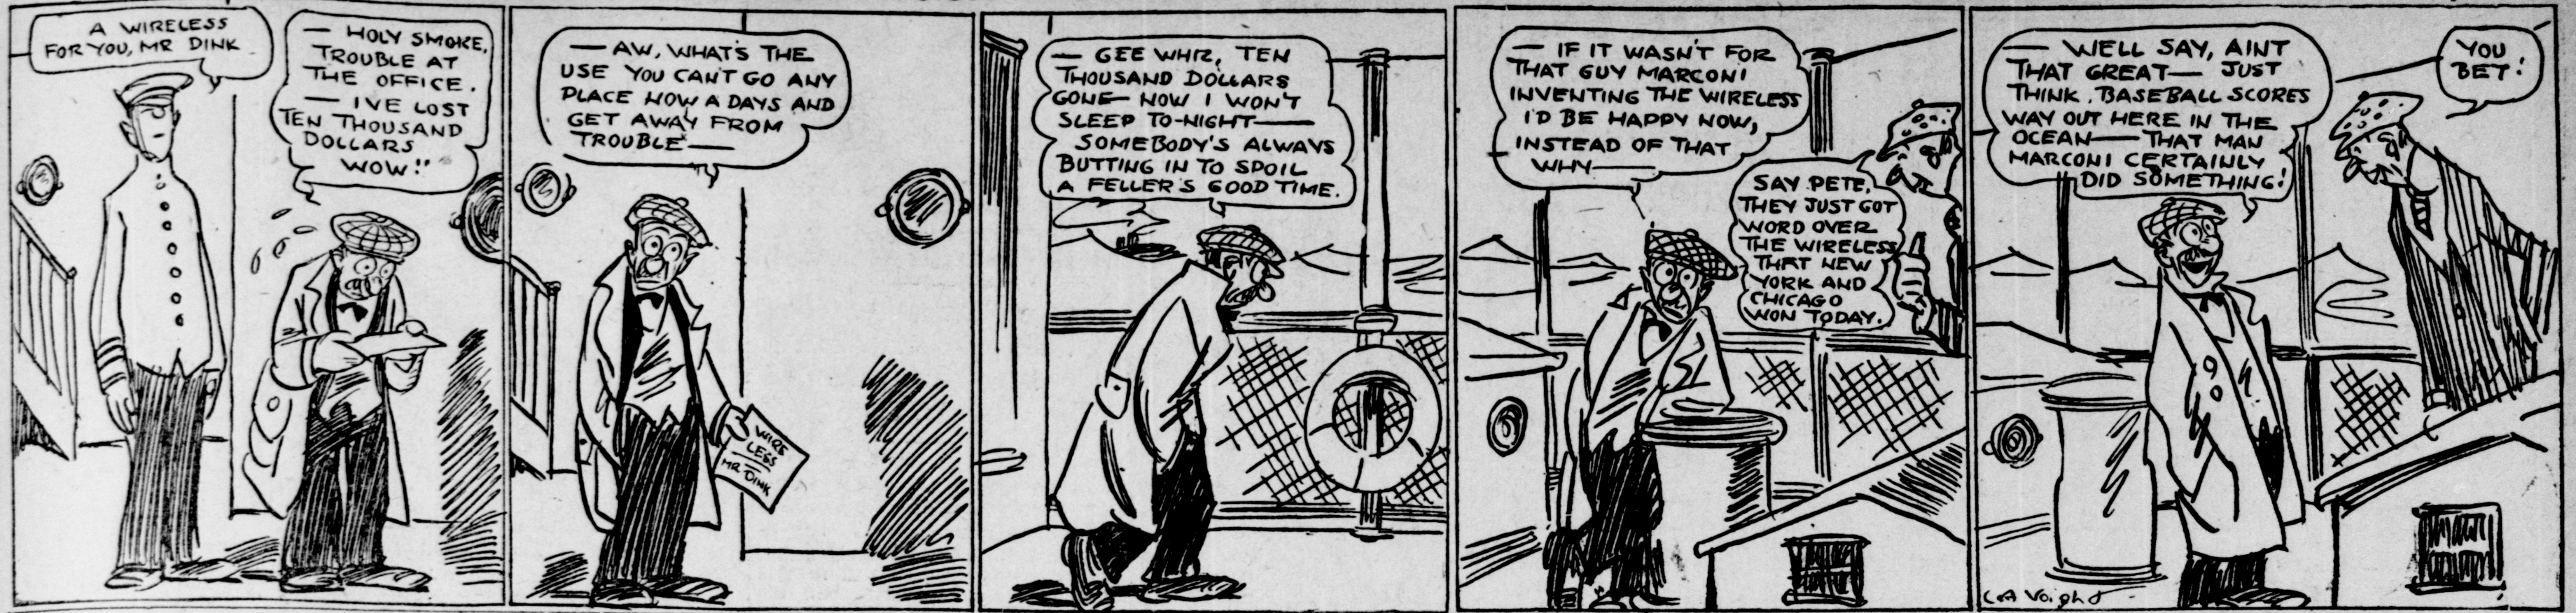

You'll find P. A. awaiting your call at all stores that sell tobacco. Toppies red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; also handsome pound and half-pound humidor.

ROB ELKS COMMISSARY

CHICAGO, July 9.—Elks, en route from Hornell, N. Y., to the Denver convention, made complaint to the police today that they had been robbed in a local hotel of nine bottles of whiskey and seven boxes of cigars.

He Kept on Climbing. "Have you ever heard Jimkins relate about the time he got half way up Mont Blanc with one of his little nephews and no guide?" asked one man of another. "How long ago did he tell you about it?" was the evasive reply. "Last March, when he'd just got home," said the first man. "Well," said the other, "in eight months since then he has climbed the rest of the way, succored a fainting guide and sustained a snowstorm on the summit, resuscitated two benumbed strangers on the way down and guided the entire party to the foot, where a grove of frantic relatives was waiting."

Andy Decided He Needed No Help. Andy Lewis, a negro in Manhattan, had a possum given to him this week and a friend asked him: "Andy, don't you want somebody to help you eat that possum?" And Andy replied: "I tell you how it is, boss. De las' time ah 'vited a white man to help me eat a possum, he mighty near done eat dat air possum all by hisself, and I only got de pickins'; yes, suh, dat's what dat white man did. I like pow'ful well to hab yo' company, but dat possum he's only just so big, and you-all know how it is. Yes, suh, dat las' time I only got de pickins'."—Kansas City Star

Corn still had a bullish tendency with July at 68 3/4 and September 66 1/2, an average of 1/2 higher.

Oats were up for both July and September on the reflected corn strength.

Provisions are still rising on reports of hog and cattle scarcity.

NEW YORK STOCK NEW YORK, July 9.—Although irregularity marked the opening of the stock market there appeared to be good buying in standard issues. Gould stocks made a new low record and copper issues were affected by unfavorable monthly figures made public yesterday.

11 a. m.—Weakness in the Gould issues and in C. & O. and New Haven continued to exert a disturbing influence on the market but buying in general was of such a quality as to produce the impression that the market was getting ready to move in response to favorable crop reports.

The Gould issues which had showed unusual weakness throughout the first hour, rallied shortly before noon, and the entire market strengthened. Trading was comparatively quiet, but stocks seemed to have a good undertone.

2 p. m.—During the early afternoon the market was idle and price changes were negligible.

The stock market closed strong.

CASES ARE RELAYED

MADISON, Wis., July 9.—The suits against the committee of six carpenter strikers brought by thirty contractors was delayed today until July 30 in order that a new judge may be appointed to try the case. Judge John C. Fehlandt has taken such an active part in mediation proceedings that he believes he should not hear the testimony.

TRANSFERS DIPLOMAT

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The president today nominated: Hugh R. Wilson of Illinois (late secretary of the legation at Guatemala) to be secretary of embassy at Buenos Ayres. William P. Cresson of Nevada to be secretary of legation at Panama.

Somewhere among his varied possessions, nearly every man has a patent cigar lighter that won't light.

LIFT BONE SPLINTER MAN RECOVERS HONOR

CANON CITY, Colo., July 9.—A splinter of bone, lifted from his brain, and Jeff Lee, prisoner in the state penitentiary here, has been transformed from a criminal maniac to an honest man. Still in his early twenties, the surgeon's knife has wrought a miracle that will send the young man into the world, a free man in every sense of the word—free from the penalty of the law, and free, also, from the malignant influence that made him a thief and all around petty criminal.

A fall from a horse, when he was only fifteen, made of him a criminal, a vagrant, and finally a maniac. The deft removal of the splinter of bone has relieved the pressure on the brain, that short-circuited the nerve currents and perverted the lad's impulses and acts.

BURGULAR "CARD INDEX"

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—When Hoy Heart is put on trial here in the course of the next few days on a charge of burglary, one of the most interesting exhibits the state will introduce will be Heart's card index cabinet. According to the police, whenever the prisoner secured a scrap of information he thought might sometime prove useful for burglarious purposes, he indexed it immediately. It is an excellent index—well kept and very comprehensive. Such items are concluded as vulnerable avenues of entrance into stores, residences and offices, different families' usual hours of retiring, the number of their members, the value of their portable assets, whether they keep dogs or fire arms and hundreds of other clues and suggestions which the authorities say might be interesting to any gossipy individual but would certainly not, they think, be card indexed by anyone with honest intentions.

TRANSFER FRANCHISE

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, July 9.—At the summer meeting of the directors of the Central Baseball association yesterday it was decided to transfer the Ottumwa franchise to Rock Island, Ill., beginning July 27. Ned Egan, president of the Ottumwa team will continue as president at Rock Island, but the franchise will be the property of the association. The Ottumwa team was losing money.

HEALTH OFFICERS MEET AT MADISON

Over 1,000 County and City Health Guardians Are Expected to Hear Discussion

PROBLEMS OF CITY ON PROGRAM
Sewage Disposal, Rural Sanitation and Clean Milk Among the Issues Up

MADISON, Wis., July 9.—Upwards of 1,000 county, city and township health officers are expected here July 16 and 17 to attend the biennial conference for the discussion of health matters. The sessions will be held in the assembly chamber and the two leading topics of discussion will be the spread of diseases and the problems connected with milk supply. About thirty-five Wisconsin physicians and health officers will appear on the program, including a representative of the United States health service. The address of welcome will be delivered by Governor McGovern.

Many Problems

The conference will be opened with a paper on water supplies and sewage disposal in small villages, by W. G. Kirchoffer, an engineer of this city. It will be discussed by E. J. Tully, Madison, and S. P. Jones, Marinette. "The Health Officer and Infant Mortality" is the subject of a paper to be read by Dr. C. M. Gould of Superior. The discussion will be led by Dr. F. P. Doherty, Appleton, and Dr. F. M. McGauley, Fond du Lac. The state health department says that this paper is the result of an extensive investigation and the conclusions will be of more than usual interest. Dr. J. W. Coon, superintendent of the Wales sanatorium, will read a paper on the early diagnosis and reporting of tuberculosis cases, which will be discussed by Dr. Rock L. Sleyster, superintendent of the hospital for the criminal insane at Waupun, and by Dr. Karl Smith, Madison.

"Rural Sanitation and Methods of Conducting Local Health Work in Rural Districts," is the title of a paper by Dr. E. A. Kitterer of Montford. It will be discussed by Dr. H. R. T. Ross, Ladysmith, and Dr. E. McDonald, Cuba City.

On Pasteurizing

Four papers will be devoted to the subject of milk supply. Dr. W. D. Frost, University of Wisconsin, will discuss "Efficient Pasteurization and Method of Procedure," which will be discussed by Dr. Frank Farr, Eau Claire, and Dr. C. A. Hayes, Chippewa Falls. Dr. D. Sauerharing, Wausau, will address the convention on "The Activities of a Health Department in a Typical Wisconsin City." The paper will be discussed by Dr. W. S. Lincoln, Dodgeville, and Dr. F. T. Park of Waupun. Dr. G. W. Henka, deputy state health officer, will speak on the methods employed in securing a safe milk supply from the producer to the consumer, and the discussion will be opened by Dr. H. C. Reich, Sheboygan, and Dr. L. E. Creasy, South Wayne. Dr. G. C. Ruhland, Milwaukee, will read a paper of safeguarding a city's milk supply, which will be discussed by Dr. L. E. Youmans, Mukwonago, and Dr. A. G. Burger, Beloit.

Discuss New Disease

Three papers are devoted to contagious diseases and the duties of a state health officer. A paper on the latter subject will be read by Dr. J. J. McShane, Kenosha, which will be discussed by Dr. H. P. Rhode, Green Bay, and Dr. J. P. Donovan, Madison. "Typhoid Carrier and Contact Infection" is the subject of a paper by Dr. F. Johnson, Eau Claire. As a result of investigations made by Dr. Johnson in the last two years, the American Medical society has just published an article embodying many of his findings. His paper will be discussed by Dr. W. J. Wehle, West Bend, and Dr. P. A. Beebe, Glenwood Springs. Dr. Taliferro Clark, a surgeon of the United States public health service, will address the convention on "The Prevention of Trachoma." This is a recently discovered disease affecting the eyes, which is believed to be incurable. His paper will be discussed by Dr. Gilbert E. Seamon, Milwaukee, and Dr. W. V. Stovall, Madison.

Dr. A. J. Chesley of the Minnesota state board of health will read a paper on "The Work of an Epidemiologist."

ECZEMA ITCHED FOR 20 YEARS—RESINOL CURED

Dec. 8, 1913: "I had eczema for 20 years. It started on me when I was but 13 years old and am now 34, and have suffered all these years. It started with small pimples all over my face, arms and hands. My hands would swell up so that I could not shut them, and I was almost blind. It would itch, then burn, and I had to keep the affected parts wrapped up so that I would not scratch them. I couldn't sleep at all—just walked the floor a whole night. "I have tried many different remedies, and spent a large sum of money, but had no relief. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment were recommended to me. They gave me great relief after the third application, and after using four jars of Resinol Soap, I am completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. H. E. Fleager, Box 13, Dauphin, Pa.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap sold by all druggists for 19 years.

THE OLD TIMER IS ON TO THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW

DON'T take a big chew. Just a nibble will satisfy you, because "Right-Cut" is the Real Tobacco Chew.

Taste it, smell it—see how different it is from ordinary tobacco.

By the time you've used up half a pouch you'll be telling your friends about it, same as the men you hear talking about it now.

Pure, rich, sappy tobacco—seasoned and sweetened just enough.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is the Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

If your dealer does not sell it, send us 10c, in stamps for a pouch of "Right-Cut" Chewing Tobacco.

SUFFRAGE MUTINY STAGED IN PRISON

Six Hundred Inmates of Blackwell's Island Hurl Dishes and Yell "Votes for Women"

NEW YORK, July 9.—Hurling dishes at the heads of the keepers and Warden Hayes, prisoners at the Blackwell Island penitentiary staged the first "suffrage mutiny" in the history of New York.

Six hundred men were seated in the big room at the mess tables when a signal from one of the leaders, a shower of dishes were hurled at the keepers and Warden Hayes. Five keepers and several prisoners were taken to the hospital after quiet had been restored by firing a pistol over the heads of the mutineers.

"We don't want men. Votes for women!" was the war cry of the prisoners who first started trouble.

WANTS NEST-EGG LAW

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 8.—"A minimum nest egg law" was urged before the Missouri Code Revision commission by Mrs. E. M. Platt, who would have couples required to have at least $200 before they be allowed to marry.

WRONG BREAKFAST

Change Gave Rugged Health
Many persons think that for strength, they must begin the day with a breakfast of meat and other heavy foods. This is a mistake as anyone can easily discover for himself.

A. W. Va. carpenter's experience may benefit others. He writes: "I used to be a very heavy breakfast eater but finally indigestion caused me such distress, I became afraid to eat anything."

"My wife suggested a trial of Grape-Nuts and as I had to eat something or starve, I concluded to take her advice. She fixed me up a dish and I remarked at the time that the quality was all right, but the quantity was too small—I wanted a saucerful."

"But she said a small amount of Grape-Nuts went a long way and that I must eat it according to directions. So I started in with Grape-Nuts and cream, 2 soft boiled eggs and some crisp toast for breakfast."

"I cut out meats and a lot of other stuff I had been used to eating all my life and was gratified to see that I was getting better right along. I concluded I had struck the right thing and stuck to it. I had not only been eating improper food, but too much."

"I was working at the carpenter's trade at that time and thought that unless I had a hearty breakfast with plenty of meat, I would play out before dinner. But after a few days of my 'new breakfast' I found I could do more work, felt better in every way, and now I am not bothered with indigestion."
